TWENTY YEAR RECORD

CLASS OF 1905
PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

PRINTED AT THE PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS, PRINCETON NEW JERSEY

WHERE the present time is mentioned or implied in notes or letters in this record, it means within the period from November 1924 to April 1925.

It has been a real pleasure to the Editors of this book to prepare it and take a little of the burden from our hard working Reunion Chairman. The letters from and contacts with old friends infrequently heard from through the years, have many times repaid the work entailed.

Much must be read between the lines of this record. Correctly interpreted, it proves convincingly that the Greatest Class on Earth has steadily gone forward until, at twenty years out, practically all of its members are useful and respected citizens in their communities, many have achieved success and others are coming strong.

INDIVIDUAL BIOGRAPHIES AND WAR RECORDS

LEWIS A. ACKLEY

Lawyer, 32 Tenth Ave., New York City

Residence: Hackettstown, N. J., and 53 Washington Square, New York City

I feel that I have profited in not answering your communications promptly because in so doing I have received many letters and telephone calls from fellows I seldom hear from and this of itself gives me great pleasure.

I received a very nice letter from the Editor, in which he said that if my record was not forthcoming he would write it up as follows:

L. A. Ackley—Butcher.

Father of five children.

Ancestral home—Bulgaria.

Graduated from Columbia in the Class of 1905.

Has made a notable record in the theatrical business.

In some respects these data seemed to be fitting, particularly the first item because, as you know, I have for the past ten years been associated with Swift and Co., not literally as a butcher, but as counsel for the company in New York City and vicinity, and I am still holding forth at 32 Tenth Avenue, this city, where I will be pleased to receive any members of the class who may be going to or returning from Europe via the White Star or Cunard Lines, as my office is directly across the street from these piers. My name does not appear on the front of the building, simply look for the word SWIFT and you will find me there.

I was admitted to the New York State Bar in 1907 and from that time until 1915 was located at 15 William St., New York City, with the usual vicissitudes of a young lawyer. I have also been admitted to the New Jersey Bar, having an office at 154 Ninth St., Jersey City, N.J.

I still maintain my permanent residence address at Hackettstown, N.J., where I usually spend the week-ends, especially during the summer. It is surprising how the rural communities continue to produce reasonably good "apple-jack," so all good classmates passing through this famous town, take heed.

As far as New York is concerned, I continue to maintain a temporary residence in Greenwich Village, living the life of single blessedness (if it can be called such). All questions as to family, children, etc., must therefore be answered in the negative. There are so few bachelors left in the class that I might be compelled to take the fatal leap, were it not for the fact that for a person of my maturity, contrary disposition, etc., it is very difficult to find any girl willing to put up with me.

I hope that this little résumé will put me right with the class and the committee.

CHARLES H. ADAMS

Treasurer, Thomas-Adams Co., Box 24, Portland, Me.

Residence: 96 Highland St., Portland, Me.

Wife: MARGARET ESHBAUGH

Children: JOHN M. 12 years

MARGARET 9 years

DANIEL O. 6 years

NATHAN 2 years

WAR RECORD: Plattsburg. Discharged on account of ill health.

Have spent most of the years since graduation on timber limits in Canada, as forest engineer. For a few years was associated with Count DeRidder's father, under the firm name of Inventories Computing Company, handling inventories for large corporations. Am now in the Tractor Snow Plow business, trying to meet the demand for equipment to keep the roads open in winter for the fellows who have automobiles. It is a great game if you don't weaken.

GRISWOLD ADAMS

Banker, Highland Park State Bank, Highland Park, Mich.

Residence: 14048 Woodward Ave., Highland Park, Mich.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gris is a banker out where he and Henry Ford do most of the business. He can still play the piano—you remember how he used to tickle the ivories in the good old days? We wish he were as good a correspondent as he is piano player.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Shorty is a director of the First National Bank of New Bethlehem, a governor of the Country Club, and is one of the leading business men in his section of Pennsylvania.

He says, "Now that my football and baseball days are over, have developed into a real golf fan. Can't play the game quite as well as Kid Boots, but I am coming." We learn from Brosius that Shorty has a long way to come, as Tub claims that he himself can beat Shorty.

WAR RECORD: U. S. Navy, Bureau of Ordnance. Active April 4, 1918-Jan. 15, 1919. Reserve until May 5, 1922.

November 10, 1924

DEAR HAROLD:

The first ten years are usually the hardest and my records are all in for that period insofar as they can be made public. That, therefore, brings me to 1915 when the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey demanded my presence in their organization, their demands being accompanied by substance, overcame my real ambition to be a trust buster, so until December, 1917, they were guided by my hand.

Then "On to Washington, D.C." where I mingled with the mob of curb-stone generals and fish-pond admirals incidentally working with the Bureau of Mines on Chemical Warfare work. Evidently Secretary Daniels heard of me, as the Navy accepted my services (see record) and from then on I and Joe worked together daytimes. If that old question of who won the war comes up, just call on us two as correspondents.

Early in 1919, the battle won, I had my residence address changed to Los Angeles to get the maximum of mileage allowance and here I have been ever since, bringing up William, Jr., and Howard, Jr., 1937, with the aid of my handicap-committee, who, strange to say, has put up with me this long. However, to take full advantage of the atmosphere, we moved to Hollywood three years ago (Oh! Boys!).

Incidentally, with my brother William '07, I have done considerable oil development work in refining lines, both here and in Wyoming. We have had to learn to swim in oil here, during the past three years, but that flood seems to be over now and we may soon know what to use for money.

"I would like to take this opportunity to say a few words about Los Angeles, the peerless—". Oh well, if that's the way you feel, why—good luck! I live in hope that I can get back for the Twentieth. Please reserve a seat 'way down by the end of the tent for,

Yours sincerely,

H. HOWARD ARMSTRONG

JOHN HONE AUERBACH

Stock Broker, 30 Broad St., New York City

Residence: Hewlett, L. I., N.Y.

Wife: DOROTHY PENNINGTON TOLER

Children: JOHN HONE, JR. 14 years

MARY P. 7 years

EDITOR'S NOTE: John is a member of the brokerage firm of Auerbach, Pollak & Richardson, of 30 Broad St., New York City. He has been much interested of late years, as an amateur, in taking moving pictures, and is an authority on that subject, among amateurs. One of the earliest moving pictures we remember is the one photographed on our mind of John out in front of the grand stand exhorting the students not to watch the football game but to watch the cheer leader.

ALFRED T. BAKER

Lumber Business, care The Branning Mfg. Co., Edenton, N.C.

EDITOR'S NOTE: About a year or two after Bosco left college, the Editor crossed a wide trail which he had left in and about Milton, Pa. Sometime after this, Bosco went to North Carolina, where he is now president of the Branning Mfg. Co., lumber manufacturers, with offices in Edenton, N.C., and Norfolk, Va. He is treasurer of the Wellington & Powellsville Railroad Company, a lumber road.

As to the remarkable things I have done "there ain't none." Best regards to all the class, but I'm afraid I can't be there in June.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Appointed Prosecutor of the Pleas for Essex County, N.J., February 9, 1922, for a term of five years.

EDITOR'S NOTE: John has a hard and important job as District Attorney for New Jersey's most populous county. We all hear of him frequently in the papers. For a number of years he was a partner in a law firm with Stewart Young '02, Roge Young's brother, leaving the firm to become prosecutor.

WAR RECORD: Private, 1st class, Medical Detachment, 326th Infantry, 82nd Division.

FREDERICK T. BLAKEMAN

Merchant, 349 Broadway, New York City

Residence, Mt. Kisco, N.Y.

Wife: BEATRICE TALBOT-BETRESEN

WAR RECORD: Commissioned pilot, Air Service, March 1, 1917. Services A.E.F. July 1917-Jan. 1919.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Fred's war record as noted above by him, does not do him justice. He was a major in the Air Service, had charge of night bombing at the end of the war over the American sector, and was decorated one or more times. He is president of the Spencerian Steel Pen Company. According to Harold Short, he hunts, shoots and fishes with great enthusiasm, in the United States and Canada, and rides to hounds in England. He does not ride to the same hound as Perry Osborn.

JOSEPH L. BODINE

United States District Judge, Post-office Bldg., Trenton, N.J.

Residence, 146 West State St., Trenton, N.J.

Wife: GERTRUDE SCUDDER

PUBLIC OFFICES: U. S. District Attorney, June 1919—; U. S. District Judge, June 1920—.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The Court: "I'm going to non-suit you."

Counsel: "But, your Honor, I have many points yet about which I have not talked."

The Court: "I know it. I am going to non-suit you anyway."

Counsel: "But, your Honor, I have much more to say on this subject. I have not nearly finished."

The Court: "That's it. But it doesn't make any difference. I know all you have to say, and if you say it all, I am still going to non-suit you."

The foregoing colloquy between the learned Court and loquacious counsel shows only one side of the Honorable Joe. Add to this Harvard erudition and a liberal sense of justice, and you have a fair composite of 1905's federal jurist.

JESSE J. BOND

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bos is now in Switzerland continuing his piano studies with Emile Blanchet, the noted pianist and composer, with whom he has been studying for several years. Bos is one of the most skilful exponents of modern composers for the piano, including Blanchet. His recent New York recitals in the Town Hall not only greatly pleased the music loving public but received most favorable notices from the music critics.

WAR RECORD: Spent all the years of the war from 1915 to 1921 at my work here in Salonica. We are still "at the front."

American Mission
Rue Franque 5, Salonica
November 7, 1924

MY DEAR HAROLD:

Your letter of September 11 came to me just after I had returned from a vacation trip in the Bulgarian mountains, and I have been so rushed with work that I have had little time for my correspondence.

I want to thank you exceedingly for your cordial letter inviting me to come back to Princeton for the Twentieth Reunion. Nothing would be pleasanter than for me to return and to renew old friendships in dear old Princeton. My heart warms at the very thought of it. I cannot say just at present whether it will be possible for me to come or not. I rather doubt it. I have school work which keeps me busy until the middle of June. And next summer we are planning on doing some building which may necessitate my being here nearly all summer. I wish there were an air-service between Salonica and New York. It may be that there will be one in time for our Twenty-fifth Reunion! That will be about the time of our regular furlough of one year in the United States, and it may be that I shall have to postpone my coming until that time.

We are busy here building up a college which has been forced to leave Turkey. I went out to Anatolia College, Marsovan, in the summer of 1905, just after graduation, and so I shall be celebrating my twentieth anniversary of work in the Near East, while my classmates are celebrating in Princeton. Not all spent here, however.

The Balkan problem still remains unsolved. But we are thankful for a chance to help in its solution. We are sure that when the young men whom we are endeavoring to train here in this College go out into life, they will take with them ideas and ideals which will make for a better spirit of Christian internationalism here in the southeastern corner of Europe.

Thank you very much for your newsy letter, and with sincere greetings to friends and classmates, I remain, Very sincerely yours,

J. RIGGS BREWSTER

RICHARD S. BRINKERHOFF

Publicity, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., 1 Madison Ave., New York City

Residence: 17 Sherman Ave., Glen Ridge, N.J.

Wife: ELEANOR MORGAN

Children: JOHN MORGAN 12 years

RICHARD SAYRE 7 years

WAR RECORD: New York City News Association.

C. AMES BROOKS

Lawyer, 111 Broadway, New York City
Residence: 144 East 7th St., Plainfield, N.J.

WAR RECORD: Ambulance driver in France with American Field Service from May 1-Oct. 1, 1917.

PUBLICATIONS: "Mauna Roa and other Poems," Princeton University Press, October 1923.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lawyer, poet, traveller, our industrious Class Secretary has had an interesting and useful career. Tahiti, mystical isle of the South Seas, lured him long before Frederick O'Brien told of its sensuous charms. Hence "Mauna Roa." Europe annually and frequent zigzagging trips around these United States, incidentally renewing contacts with many members of the Class, Ames seems to have solved that most difficult problem of working hard and yet of seeing and doing many other interesting things. Perhaps it was easier because he remained unmarried. Anyway, he has been a "corking" good Class Secretary.

NOAH REYNOLDS BROOKS

Banking, 120 West Adams St., Chicago, Ill.
Residence: 1183 Scott Ave., Hubbard Woods, Ill.

Wife: ESTHER BAKER PORTER

Children: JOHN REYNOLDS 7 years
 WILLIAM PORTER 2½ years

At present mid-western representative, Guaranty Trust Company of New York. Studied law after Princeton and was admitted to New York Bar 1909.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom Carton says "Ray is local representative of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York and serving his second term as Secretary of the Princeton Club of Chicago. He is such a good secretary that he is probably in for life."

We learn with regret that Ray's dog, "Tige," has departed this life, lo, these many years. Tige will be remembered by those who went to Harvard Law School with Ray, as the intelligent animal who would always drop over "dead" when asked the question, "Would you rather be dead or go to Harvard?"

LEWIS GORDON BROSIUS

Lawyer, 211 Main St., Brookville, Pa.
Residence: 52 Pickering St., Brookville, Pa.

Wife: EDNA GOODWIN

WAR RECORD: Rejected for active service. Federal fuel administrator for Jefferson County, Pa. Member of draft board, Jefferson County, Pa. War loans committees.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Personal interviews with Tubby are hard to obtain—Brookville not being on the main line. We are reliably informed, however, that Mr. Brosius has grown thin like a sylph, is still the champion of three counties in tennis, but has failed for fifteen years to win a set from DeRidder or Scribner; that he is one of the most enthusiastic hunters and best bird shots in his district of Pennsylvania; that he is one of his county's leading citizens; and that he is one of the world's worst golf players.

CHARLES FRANCIS BROWN

Coal Business, 617 Munsey Bldg, Baltimore, Md.

Residence: 3806 St. Paul St., Baltimore, Md.

Wife: JANE W. STRONG

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hoppy has recently been married. He acknowledges that he was a long time getting enough sense for this step, but finally came to it. He has been in the coal business since leaving college and at the present time finds conditions more unsettled in the central Pennsylvania coal field, than at any time he remembers.

He says further: "I remained a stubborn old bachelor for a good many years, but now realize what an old fool I have been. I moved into my new home in Guilford here the day before Thanksgiving and it is certainly a grand and glorious feeling being in your own home . . . I am very fond of golf, but still belong to that class of golfer who runs from 85 to 90 strokes to the round. (We'll bet any good 98 golfer can beat him.) I have improved a little, but cannot achieve my ambition to cut my score ten strokes more and never will—worse luck! . . . I understand that my old friend Clarence Ward is touring Europe with a bevy of young ladies. . . . The Baltimore oughty-fivers are all of them keeping pretty young looking, so think that our climate must have something to do with it."

COLEMAN P. BROWN

Banking, Townsend Whelen & Co., 505 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Residence: Devore, Chester County, Pa.

Wife: JANE BERGER ARTER

Children: HENRY HOBART, II 13 years

LYDIA WELLINGTON 6 years

WAR RECORD: 1st lieut. Inf. Bn. Adjt. 2nd Bn., 315 Inf., 79th Div. Capt. and Personnel Adjt., 315th Inf. about Dec. 1917. Meuse-Argonne offensive. Troyon defensive sector 1918. Detached service "Infantry Candidates School" La Valbonne, France, 1918 and 1919. Rejoined 315th Inf., March 1919, Commanding Company I, 3rd Bn. Acting battalion commander, part time. Returned to Camp Dix, mustered out May 30, 1919.

1906-1909 Employed at J. G. Brill Co., car builders, Philadelphia.

1909-1915 Headmaster DeLancey School, Philadelphia, until it joined Episcopal Academy in 1915, when I became a member of the board.

1915-1925 With Townsend Whelen & Co.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Coley for six years head of DeLancey School had amazing success as a teacher. Because of a profound feeling of fellowship he was able to do wonders with the boys who didn't like to work. Joe Gish, always an intimate friend of Coley's, tells us that hard upon entering the banking field Coley has gone into politics and is a most enthusiastic supporter of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, whom he especially upholds in efforts for prohibition enforcement. Coley has recently become a lecturer, being on the Chautauqua Circuit with William Jennings Bryan. He has a series of lectures entitled "That dark Brown taste." Joe was able to secure the following excerpt from Coley's third lecture:

"Down with King Alcohol! (which I have nicknamed Amendment XVIII). No more shall our bright land be sullied with licensed saloons (which I have nicknamed hellholes). . . . That bright land for which our forefathers bled and died, while our brave foremothers (which I have nicknamed Heroines), with bleeding gums, bit the ends off the cartridges; that great country which produces the fairest women on God's footstool, Gentlemen, the bravest men, the finest rye; that great land on whose possessions, from setting sun to setting sun, the mellowest moonshine shall always fall; that fair domain o'er which spreads the greatest of all flags, whose red is the blood of gallant men, whose white is the purity of matchless women, whose blue shall no longer be the color of the morning after . . . No! not until, glaring down on this greatest of all countries, the effulgent radiance of the noonday sun shall be eclipsed by the fitful gleam of the lightning bug's tail."

FREDERICK LANE BROWN

Physician, 67 Livingston Ave., New Brunswick, N.J.

Wife: ESTHER MAY SUYDAM

Children: PHOEBE ESTHER 10½ years

FREDERICK LANE, JR. 8½ years

There is little of particular interest to tell you concerning my life here in New Brunswick, where I came after leaving my medical work in New York.

I worked with the American Locomotive Co. a year after leaving Princeton. I then went to the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City, and graduated in 1910. After one and one-half years at Bellevue Hospital I came here to practise medicine.

As you will see by the blank, I was married in 1912 to Esther May Suydam. I have two children.

My life during the past twelve years has been a busy one and the time has passed very rapidly. During the war I was prevented from entering active service, and my war record is only a local one. I have held no public office.

There are few Princeton men here in New Brunswick. Peter Hoe of our class lives here, and is with the Interwoven Stocking Co. Fred Havens '05 is in the automobile business here.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Fritz is one of New Brunswick's leading physicians and surgeons. He is Attending Physician at two hospitals and is there with the goods, as a doctor. He is an expert baby doctor—the kind that gets them here.

GEORGE M. BROWN, JR.
Borough Engineer, Princeton, N.J.

Wife: Married
Children: None

EDITOR'S NOTE: George has been Borough Engineer of Princeton since Moses was a boy. He and Hen Sayen are the babies to thank for that fine paving on Nassau Street, where Marshall Gilfoyle can stand and direct traffic. He also runs a Buick agency, so as to wear out the streets a bit and make more work for the Borough Engineer.

George lives on Vandeventer Street, just near the cemetery. Maybe that is why we have had no answer to our many inquiries addressed to him.

CURTIS D. BUNTING

Civil Engineer, Pennsylvania R.R., Grand Rapids, Mich.
Residence: 606 Giffings Ave., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Wife: EDITH FAIRMAN
Children: JOHN FAIRMAN 8 years
 CURTIS WILSON 4 years

JOHN STEWART BURGESS

Teacher and Social Worker, Princeton-in-Peking, Peking, China

Wife: STELLA CORNELIA FISHER
Children: DAVID STEWART 7½ years
 VINTON DOUGLAS 6 years

EDITOR'S NOTE: Stew has been for years one of the class representatives in missionary work in China. He has undoubtedly performed a great service in this field, as witness the publications from time to time on Princeton-in-Peking. During his last sabbatical year in this country, he spent much time investigating American methods of social service, for use in his work in the East.

THOMAS J. BURKE

Advertising, New York American, New York City
Residence: Princeton Club, New York City

Wife: KATHARINE MORROW
Children: BETSY 9½ years

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tommy was, for a number of years after leaving college, in the advertising business with Baron Collier, being located in Baltimore for a time and having charge of street car advertising. Since 1919 he has been in New York engaged in newspaper advertising.

HOWARD EMORY BUSHNELL

Proprietor of Master Kennel Builders, Basking Ridge, N.J.

MADELEINE 15 years

ELIZABETH 13 years

EDWARD 10 years

WAR RECORD: Captain, adjutant 217th Engrs. Did not see foreign service.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bush for a number of years was in the iron and steel business, but when the war came along he entered the service and became a captain of Engineers, where his ability as a constructing engineer was soon recognized by the government and he was given the job of building the Pickatinny Arsenal.

STOCKTON BUZBY

I have been with the Procter & Gamble Company ever since graduation. Started as a salesman in Baltimore, Md. Went to New York in October 1912 as Metropolitan district manager. Transferred to Cincinnati January 1, 1919, as sales manager of the box soap and cooking fat business of the company.

Have been so busy selling Ivory soap, Crisco, etc., that I admit to being a poor correspondent. However, I have managed to see most of the "Big Games" and to get back to Princeton at least once every year. This attendance record I hope to improve upon from this day on.

A. H. CARROLL

Advertising Business

Residence: B8 King Edward Apts., Pittsburgh, Pa.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Howdy was in the newspaper business for many years, with the Pittsburgh Dispatch, until the consolidation of that newspaper, after which he entered the advertising field. We hear of him infrequently, but well remember how he added to the gayety of Dickinson Street, in freshman year, by his comments upon passers-by, issued from his third story window in no uncertain tone. In sophomore year, living next to Ken Clark in University Hall, he was the heavy receiver on the reception committee to welcome the dozens of upper classmen who stopped in nightly at all hours to have Ken play the piano.

It is always a real pleasure to hear from or see one of the bunch. I get to Portland, Ore., about once a year and always see "Noisy" Warren. He is the same as ever. Was East last July to the American Bar Association meetings in Philadelphia. While visiting my brother in Norristown, I saw Bidly Coughlin and Jack Larzelere a number of times. Jack took me up to Princeton and showed me around. Had not been there for thirteen long years. My! the old place looked good to me. This was the most pleasant day of my trip. Would sure like to see you and the rest of the crowd. Tell the fellows to look me up if they are out this way. Any old time will be convenient.

WAR RECORD: Lieut. (J.G.) U.S.N.R.F., 1918.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Board of Education, Lake Forest, Ill.

My twenty years have been spent (between reunions) in acquiring a legal education and practising the profession, with about the usual time devoted to my family. I have had some success and a great deal of fun.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom is a partner in the law firm of Gardner & Carton, and is an attorney with a large and growing practice, handling legal business of some of Chicago's largest corporations. He claims a very indifferent golf game, but since the Gardner part of his firm has a national champion in the family, we think he may be laying back for the reunion games. As Class Vice-president, Tom always responds willingly and efficiently to any call upon his time.

Ken has been doing a notable work of late years in music, not only composition, but in the business side of musical development. He has been particularly active in the organization and direction of community singing, both as applied to civic festivals, and also among industrial organizations.

The passing years have been friendly to me. They have yielded satisfactions against which the counterweights of care have been many times overbalanced. Religious work has been my constant occupation; on college and school campus, on a foreign continent, and in the pastorate. My married life has been exceedingly happy. Four children—two boys and two girls—gather about the hearthstone, and go forth to test mind and muscle with their mates. I anticipate with happiness—and my family joins with me in the anticipation—the bright days of the Twentieth, and glad meetings with the men of 1905 from far and near.

Residence: 188 Cliff St., Burlington, Vt. (Temporary). Home is Middlebury, Vt.

Wife: LOUISE W. MIX

Children: DOROTHY PORTER 13 years
HENRY ROWLAND 12 years
FRANCES ELLSWORTH 6 years

PUBLIC OFFICES: Supervisor of Agricultural Census of First District of Vermont. Following graduation, studied law at New York Law School, where I graduated with honors in 1907 and was admitted to Bar of New York. While in law school and the following year, I was in the office of a Princeton grad, Henry W. Jessup, and roomed with Ray Fosdick '05. The summer of 1908 I worked as an $18 a month farmhand for a good farmer in Orwell, Vt. Was married in October 1908 and my wife and I worked for the farmer and his wife until spring of 1909, when we bought a farm in Middlebury, Vt. Paid one-quarter of the purchase price, giving a mortgage for the rest; had enough money to pick up some vari-colored cows and some of the most necessary machinery and then went to work to make a living. This we succeeded in doing, improving our farm and equipment and stock each year till we now have a high producing herd of grade Holsteins (and am starting some pure bred), a state "certified for production" flock of Barred Rocks and White Leghorns, and am raising a lot of clover and alfalfa. All of which sounds good, but prices of farm products have been out of adjustment with costs and prices of other products for some years past; it has been a hard pull, but we have come through in good shape.

Mrs. Cornwall and I held the various offices in the local grange until we helped to organize the Addison County Farm Bureau. Was president of the County Farm Bureau from 1915-22, when we moved to Burlington to take charge of the Vermont Farm Bureau Federation as president and managing director. Had been president of the State Federation since its beginning in 1917.

In 1919 was one of the organization committee of five which drew up constitution, etc., for the American Farm Bureau Federation. Was on the executive committee of this organization for three years. Was a member of the party of five representing the A.F.B.F. which visited Europe in the fall and winter of 1923; Gray Silver was the leader of our party. We had a wonderfully interesting trip, visiting Germany and the Ruhr at the zero hour. We were entertained by ambassadors, premiers, army headquarters, heads of agricultural organizations; and in fact had access to all the contacts and information of which we could take advantage in our limited time. We visited England, Holland, Belgium, France, Germany and Denmark. The cooperative organizations, marketing systems, and farmer-minded governmental system in Denmark were particularly interesting to us, especially in contrast to the industrially-minded development of some of the other countries. The contrast in the social system is also striking.

At present we are temporarily located at Burlington. We are operating our farm in Middlebury and can always be found either in Burlington or Middlebury by all '05 men or other Princeton men. We are hungry for the sight of them.

I think one of Vermont's lamentable weaknesses is the small number of Princeton men among her citizens. She needs some new Princeton blood in her veins.

"Hen" Cornwall, our only boy, is headed for Princeton, class of 1934!

I am enclosing the form for Twentieth Record, made out with a very prosaic line of facts. In fact my whole career, since leaving Princeton, seems to be made up mostly of prosaic facts, with the result that I am an extreme bore to everyone, my wife included.

As you know, Dutch and I have been working for the last twenty years to discover new methods of spoiling lithographic jobs. Up to the present time we have found something over 400,000 and feel that the field is not nearly exhausted.

Married February 14, 1907, in Nashville. Went to Seattle on wedding trip and stayed there nine years, where four children were born and I studied law at University of Washington. Moved to Memphis, Tenn., winter of 1916. "Jined up" fall of 1917. Returned to Memphis 1919. Found a fellow who didn't go had my job, but I still had the girl—better luck than some I knew. Came to Nashville in the fall of 1919, after spending three months in a hospital in Madison, Wis., with a broken jaw, contracted through faulty airship management at too low an altitude.

WORK: Law and Farm.

PLEASURE: Fox hunting and being Lieut. Col. 109th Cav. T.N.G.

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Clapper's" freshman nerve in climbing "Old North" was evidently still with him flying in the great war.

WAR RECORD: Camp Zachary Taylor as student officer.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sack is a lawyer in Trenton, with Bayard Stockton and Richard Stockton III. He is the man who got us Morven for the Twentieth Reunion headquarters. Sack's chief pleasures are golfing—at which he is a very excellent performer—and arguing with Henry Sayen, in which sport he finishes a poor second. He is a genial, willing worker for the class and gave the editors of this book much help in its preparation.

In looking back over the last twenty years, I fail to find any outstanding events or developments that would be of any particular interest. Have been here in Rochester on the same job for the last twelve years, working hard and playing a little when possible. Am a little fatter and a good deal balder. Looking forward to seeing you and the rest of the boys next June.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom was with the Whitehead & Hoag Company, of Newark, N.J., for a time after graduation, but for a number of years has been in Rochester with the Bastian Brothers Company. He makes, among other things, all these celluloid badges, without which we could never hold a Commencement or elect a President of the United States.

Thank you very much for your letter of January 6 which was delivered some time ago in Harrow.

I note what you say about our Twentieth Reunion next June, but it will be impossible for me to return. I expect to sail for the Congo on April 1 and I shall not be back in Europe before some time during the fall.

Your news of all our old friends was very interesting to me, as it is the first definite information I have had for a long time. Will you please remember me to them at the Commencement and try to make excuses for me. I do hope some day to be able to visit Princeton during Commencement and talk over old times and new with the boys.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Don is consulting engineer to the diamond mining operations of the Forminière and its associated companies, operating in the Belgian Congo and Portuguese West Africa. The last time he was back here he had the most wonderful collection of pictures of the mines in Africa and of the workmen all dressed up in their native costumes of earrings and fish bones. We learn from the company with which Don is connected that he is getting along in great shape and is highly thought of as an engineer.

At the time this is written, Jim Cooney says that "Don married a young English woman named Miss Kennedy, and they have two children. At the present time he is back from Africa and living in Harrow, England."

CONSULTATION ROOM
THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
COLUMBUS, OHIO

I have your several letters requesting information for the class record. I am returning herewith the data requested. As far as I am concerned, my life has been rather a normal one since graduation. I spent three years at the Ohio State University Law School, graduating in June 1908; and in the same month being admitted to the Bar of the State of Ohio. After practising six years, I was in 1914 elected Prosecuting Attorney of Franklin County and was re-elected in 1916, serving from January, 1915, to January, 1919. In the fall of 1918 I was elected to the Common Pleas Bench and have served as Judge of that Court since then, being re-elected last fall for another six-year term. My re-election last fall was very gratifying in view of the fact that I received over 14,000 majority in a Republican year, and was the only Democrat to be elected on the county ticket. Your recent letter accusing me of being licked by 14,000 was the proper prod to secure an answer from me. I was married in 1914 and am living with my family—consisting of my wife and two little girls—at 333 North Park-view Ave., Bexley.

WAR RECORD: In charge of production in the above company of large government orders for range-finders, binoculars, gunsights, and numerous other fire control apparatus.

After leaving Princeton in 1905 I spent two years at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where I was graduated in 1907 in the course of Chemical Engineering. And then I came out here to Rochester and for ten years worked in Eastman Kodak organization. Here I had a lot of opportunity to apply my training in chemistry, as I was connected with the main laboratory and later became superintendent of the Chemical Plant, which position I held from 1914 to 1917 when I left there to handle the production problem of the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co.

This turned out to be a very interesting stunt, as this company was called upon to make all manner of fire-control instruments for practically every fighting branch of the U. S. Government. We grew rapidly from a plant of some 2,000 employees to one of 6,000, and produced binoculars, gunsights, telescopes, range finders, periscopes, etc., etc. Well, since 1918 we have been trying to catch up with all the commercial lines which our war program had interrupted. And this applies to spectacles, spectacle lenses, microscopes, and all other types of scientific apparatus.

Last summer I was made a vice-president of the company and now find myself confined almost entirely to work of an executive nature, and incidentally far removed from my training as a chemical engineer.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Doc also notes that he is about to hold his eleventh wedding anniversary and that his oldest boy, Dick, is coming along as a golfer. With his other work, he has combined numerous activities as director of banks, Y.M.C.A., educational and charitable institutions. In addition to all of this he is now running an experimental dairy and chicken farm.

ALFRED ELY

Lawyer, 31 Nassau St., New York City
Residence: 148 East 65th St., New York City

Wife: FRANCES BURR

Children: ALFRED, JR., born June 22, 1918

WAR RECORD: U.S. Air Service, Oct. 1917-Jan. 1919; 1st lieut. to March 25, 1918, when promoted to capt. to Sept. 17, 1918, when promoted to major, ground officer.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Alfred is a hard working member of the well-known New York law firm of Agar, Ely and Fulton.

Alf has become artistic of late, having painted, in relief, a series of Gesso panels for his dining-room. They were such a success that a big Fifth Avenue dealer asked to exhibit them. Alf would have none of that, however. The scenes represent a mediaeval tournament or Kegyeing party and are very realistic.

The first three and a half years after graduation I spent in engineering with the Pennsylvania Railroad tunnels, and a lumber company in North Carolina. In February of 1909 my father took me in his business, and I started my career over again, with Uhler & English, cordage and tackle block merchants, and am now a member of the firm. I was married in 1909, and have one boy who is due in Princeton with the class of 1935.

There is nothing notorious, scandalous, or otherwise to report in connection with my twenty years since graduation.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Editor drove to Princeton for one of the football games last fall, accompanied by two of his sons, who took along a football to kick around before game time. We were engaged in this occupation on the soccer field, when Clem English drove up with four or five of his children. We exchanged greetings and pleasantries. When we returned from the football game our football was gone.

EUGENE EUWER

Ranching, Raising Apples and Pears, Parkdale, Ore.

WAR RECORD: At Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark. Infantry O.T.C. at time of the Armistice.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Harold Short was travelling by automobile through Oregon last summer, admiring the scenery and trying to remember the birth dates of Oregon's Princetonians, when the automobile broke down right by a signboard saying "This way to Euwer's Ranch." He went up a side road a half a mile and came to Gene's apple ranch, a beautiful place of several hundred acres and one of the best apple and pear ranches in the Hood River district. Shorty had a pleasant visit and got Gene all set for the Twentieth Reunion.

WAR RECORD: Drove an ambulance for the French Red Cross in the north of France from Oct. 1914 until May 1915.

PUBLIC OFFICES: President Board of Education, New Lebanon, N.Y.

Spent two years at New York Law School and then practised law in Paterson, N.J., and Newark, N.J., until July 1914, when I went abroad and spent the following year driving an ambulance for part of the time. Was married in Ireland in June 1915; returned to America; resided in South Orange and practised law in Newark for eighteen months. Then shook the dust of the city and bought a 300-acre farm. Since then have worked like the devil to learn farming, enjoyed it immensely, and am looking forward to the day when President Coolidge says you poor city guys will be starving from shortage of food, and we country rubes will make some money.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Chuck is our living example of the adage that "All is fair in love and war." He goes over to France to drive an ambulance and while engaged in this pleasant enterprise he meets the present Mrs. Fayerweather, with the results enumerated in lines four to eight above. For several years Chuck did yeoman service as our Class Secretary.

EZRA S. FERRIS, JR.

Clergyman, 102 North Main St., Manchester, N.H.

Wife: MAUDE SCHUYLER DAVENPORT

Children: SCHUYLER DAVENPORT

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here it is, Ez's All-Bible football team.

Center—Goliath—No notices needed.

Guards—Caleb and Joshua—Great at breaking through the line.

Tackles—Samson and David—Sam had a way of tearing things to pieces. David knew no fear, and when he was in prep school he slew a lion and a bear, all by himself. Bull dogs would have no terrors for him. Moreover, the Sons of Eli, though the Sons of Belial, were never so fierce as the Philistines.

Ends—Elijah and Noah (not Brooks, but his great-grandfather). Noah played his safest game on a wet field, and Elijah had the speed of the wind. He won a race against the king's chariot, and almost beat a hurricane. He therefore holds the record for getting down the field.

Half-backs—Esau and Jacob—A crafty pair of line breakers. Half-uncle Ishmael, sub-half, was a colorful player.

Full-back—Daniel—potent among the lions of the game, or Abraham, a triple threat back.

Quarter-back—Solomon—who made a world-wide reputation by his strategy; or Joseph. Joe found himself playing a losing game, and by a brilliant forward pass from behind the bar, took the lead and maintained it to the end of the game.

Head Coach—Methuselah—He played the game longer than anyone else.

Linesmen—Adam and Eve—They originated the sport.

Water Boy and Trustee of the Sponge—Isaac—Famous for his well water.

Cheer Leader—Aaron—Best talker in the bunch.

Substitutes—The Giants who “were in the earth in those days, mighty men, men of renown.”

Mascot—Balaam’s Ass.

Captain—The question of a Captain is important. Goliath might be considered, except that he lost his head in one big game.

Solomon and David were too fond of the ladies to be entrusted with the responsibilities of field command. With the stands full of puellae pulchrae, they might vault the fence and be lost for the afternoon.

Elijah had ideas, but was too rough.

Samson had skill as well as strength, but he confided too much in the daughters of the enemy. He couldn’t keep his own counsel. Through this he lost his eyesight in the last quarter.

Joseph therefore is appointed; henceforth known of all men as Captain Joe. For besides the brilliant individual performance which made him the most popular player of his day, he had a faculty for reading the other fellow’s mind.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Some of Ty's "research" has been of a character more appealing to a layman than indicated by the formidable titles of scientific papers he has listed above. JOHN CLARENCE FUNK

Lawyer, The Capitol, Harrisburg, Pa.

Residence: 1701 North Front St.

WAR RECORD: U.S.N.R.F., 1917, assigned to Intelligence Service. Re-assigned to Commission on Training Camp Activities. Transferred to Intelligence Department. Supervising Inspector, Naval Intelligence, Washington, 1919.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Clarence has published two books, "So This Is America," an American travel work, and another book, "Vice and Health," now an international textbook on social sanitation. It is believed that David Belasco's late show "Ladies of the Evening" is a dramatization of the latter book. Clarence is Attorney for the State Board of Health of Pennsylvania, and is considered an authority on the control and prevention of social diseases.

Jim Furst claims that Funky has a cave running clear back under the Capitol Building, because, although he has tried to find him a hundred times when in Harrisburg, Clarence is always at some mysterious place or occupation and cannot be located.

PUBLIC OFFICES: District Attorney of Centre County, Pa., for two terms (8 years).

EDITOR'S NOTE: Jim says that living in the wilds of Bellefonte, Pa., he doesn't get a chance to see many oughty-fivers, but that he is coming back to the Twentieth Reunion for sure. He says further—"Sorry I cannot give you an account of great accomplishments. My history has been without many real high spots. I have been plodding along practising law and enjoying life to my full share. Sorry I am not in shape to carry out Tiny Westcott's suggestion to me when I left college, to 'Go to work if you want to, but be sure to give $50,000.00 to Princeton for a dormitory.'

"I hope your efforts to get replies from all the fellows will meet with success. There may be some poor devil of '05 down in the wilds of Africa, or over in the next country, who hasn't heard from his old friends for a long time and this record will bring news up to date."

Tub Brosius says they tried to get Jim to run for Judge of Centre County last Fall, but he would not hear of it.

ALBERT B. GAINES, JR.

The Princeton Club of New York

Residence: Englewood, N.J.

WAR RECORD: Lieut., A.S. For part of the time was attached as instructor to 56th Aero Squadron in England. Later transferred as staff instructor and C. O. for field service No. 8 at Issoudon, France. After Armistice was transferred to Ordnance at St. Jean des Montes.

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Pup" is a man of mystery. Even Harold Short could not give us the "dope" offhand. As for "Pup" himself, he answers no letters and parries all inquiries. It is rumored he is in the Secret Service with a special mission to check up on Hungarian Bolsheviks. At any rate, he is quietly building aeroplanes and sometimes flies with Government officials at Mitchell Field; and he has been seen driving a Chevrolet in his last year's suit (disguised as a Bolshevik no doubt) in preference to his Wills St. Clair; and he was particularly hard to reach during the recent sojourn in this country of the Count and Countess Karolyi. All of these mysterious agencies have been most willingly and effectively utilized by Gaines in the service of the Class to make the best reunion of all times.

I found your request for data for the 1905 Twentieth Anniversary Record upon my return to Cincinnati from a trip to Los Angeles in connection with the affairs of my father's estate. I am learning a lot about the law, in resisting an effort on the part of the State of California to collect inheritance tax on my father's entire estate, as they are claiming that he was a resident of California at the time of his death, instead of Ohio. The more I learn of the law the more fortunate I feel that I did not take it up as a profession.

It is with some hesitancy that I have listed the offices which I hold, but they probably give as clearly as anything could, an idea of my activities and what I am doing twenty years after graduation. I am fortunate in having three future Princeton candidates in my family, as well as three candidates for some girls' college. As the baseball fan son of one of my friends remarked on the arrival of our youngest, "Gee, that's exciting; three to three in the sixth!"

I have lived in Cincinnati constantly since graduation, and we have two other members of '05 here, namely Stockton Buzby and Bill MacCrellish; the former being assistant general sales manager of The Procter & Gamble Company, and the latter being the local manager of the Western Electric Company.

Residence: 901 Kilsyth Road, Elizabeth, N.J.

Wife: SARAH HELEN CHURCH

Children: STEBEN GILMAN 2½ years

WAR RECORD: Rejected for eyesight and underweight.

My history, since graduation, naturally divides itself into three periods. The first, about nine years, finds me located with the Fleischmann Co., as Chemist, most of the time in Cincinnati, my native town. The second period, which might be called the Renaissance or Revival of Learning, about three and one-half years, was spent at Columbia in graduate study, including pursuit and capture of Ph.D. degree. The Great War, in which, much to my regret, it was not my privilege to take part, occurred during this period. During the third or present period, so far about seven years, I have been engaged in development work with the Air Reduction Co., first in Jersey City and later at Elizabeth. It was in this period that I deserted the ranks of the few remaining bachelors in the class.

I regret that I cannot give you any news regarding other members of the class, as the ones I have seen you have probably seen more often than I have.

I am glad now to be situated near enough to Princeton so that I can run down occasionally and get a breath of the old atmosphere, and enjoy the proud satisfaction of watching her splendid development.

Was instructor in the C. E. department at Princeton for a year after graduation; then went with the Ballwood Co., manufacturers of stationary steam engines, for ten years, working up from assistant engineer to general manager. Left them to go with C. H. Higgins '03, in architectural work, but quit that after a year to go to war. Was married in May 1919. Organized a company to manufacture enamelled goods in 1922 and it looks as though running that company will be my job for some time to come.

Twenty years in seven lines. I hope some of the others have more interesting histories.

Your last letter was almost insulting, so am now mailing this blank so that you won't have to say your worst. Am looking forward to seeing the gang in June.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sleep, in his usual state of coma, failed to answer any letters, so that we were driven to Joe Gish for information who says;—That Sleep is in the automobile business and will sell anyone a fine new car or a "good second-hand car" (like a good nickel cigar); that Sleep has to have a special car to ride in himself, since he now weighs the same as Fat Stratton, 298; and that Sleep's beverage invention, known as "Squirrel Juice," containing the distilled essence of hydrocyanic acid, red pepper, and creosote has really come into its own since we amended the Constitution.

Joe wonders how all this has affected that superb control of the ivory balls with which Sleep held the students fascinated, nightly, at Eddie Branch's.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Turk says that except at Commencement he hasn't heard Old Nassau since 1905, nor seen a big football game. He was married June 22, 1918, in Old Trinity, New York, to Miss Lois Rogers. He says: "Just before my marriage I accepted the post of Acting Professor of Biology at the College of William and Mary, in Virginia, taking the place of a man who was on the firing line. I myself had done all I could to enter the service, but was always told 'Go 'way, boy, you don't weigh enough!' As if that mattered! The National Research Council advised me to continue what I was doing, and I had to grin and bear it. At William and Mary we had a unit of the Student Army Training Corps, the students being actually enlisted in the Army, and I tried to feel that I was 'doing my bit.' On my several trips to Washington, trying to get in, I saw Charlie Tittman at the War Dept. He looked like a million dollars in his Sam Browne belt.

“A Princeton face is as rare as an emu, a gnu, or an ai. I am looking forward with eagerness to June, and will certainly be there for a part of the time, at least. Unfortunately Commencement here is the same time, and it may be hard for me to get leave. I am trying, however, and that is all I can promise. But I will certainly be there for the Yale game.”

Turk is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at University of Richmond. He was, in 1910, a member of the Honor Committee at Virginia, and President (1921-22) of the Virginia Academy of Science. He is a member of the Virginia Society, Sons of the Revolution, Military Order of Foreign Wars, Past Commander of Camp No. 1, Sons of Confederate Veterans.

PETER S. HOE

Interwoven Mills Inc., 395 George St., New Brunswick, N.J.

Residence, New Brunswick, N.J.

WAR RECORD: About two years in the Army—field artillery and a couple of weeks aviation. Enlisted as a private and ended as a 2nd lieut. One year in France.

I enclose the anniversary record. Wish I had some real news for you, but I haven't. The only excitement worthy of the name that's come my way since graduation was the war. I had a very nice time in France—a lot of drill, of course, and some shooting and a little flying just before the Armistice—and some short trips to Paris.

Previous to the war I worked mostly at the insurance business, but on leaving the Army got a job here with the Interwoven to please my father, whom I found in poor health, and who wanted me home, as my two brothers had got married and gone away, of course. I've been here ever since, and would hesitate to leave on account of my mother and sister, who are very fond of their home. My father died very suddenly five years ago and his death was a terrible blow.

I rarely see any of the Class, except Fred Brown, who is the best doctor in town, and whom I catch an occasional glimpse of.

I play a good deal of tennis and do a lot of gym work, including handball in the winter. Keep in fair shape, but for some reason or another have been under the weather a little lately. I'm hoping to get away next year for a trip to England and France—wish I could go now.

I'm going to try to get up to pay you a call in New York sometime this month. Anyway I'll be hoping to see you in June.

F, 314th Inf., 79th Div., at Camp Meade, Md.; became incapacitated on account "recurring right inguinal hernia" for which I had previously been operated upon twice. Honorably discharged 1918, account above disability. Did not get across. After graduation I studied law at New York Law School and in offices of Pitney, Hardin & Skinner, Newark, N.J. In 1909 opened my law office in Newark, N.J., and practised for two years. Then entered Law Department Prudential Insurance Co., Newark, N.J., where I have been ever since. Started in General Insurance business 1921, and now have a pretty good insurance business. Was married November 12, 1908. Used to see Harold Short often, but since he has been married he seems to be too busy to see some of his old friends.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Doc continues to be a bachelor, although he is one of the most active little students in social affairs in Pittsburgh, Pa. Many and many an enterprising mother has set her daughter's cap for Doc, but so far he has dodged them all. He plays a fair game of (outdoor) golf during the summer season. In the winter—well, in the winter—you can't play golf so well around Pittsburgh.

In regard to the twenty years, I have enjoyed living every one of them and I find as the years go on I still have my capacity undiminished.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Pink was for a number of years with the New Jersey Zinc Co., but later went with the DuPont interests in Wilmington. We met him on the train about three years ago, at which time he was just in the midst of the design of some large projects for the DuPont Co.

RANDAL E. HOYT

Physician, 121 East 60th St., New York City

EDITOR'S NOTE: Randal graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1910 and has practised in New York City since. He is Assistant Attending Physician at the Skin and Cancer Hospital, and also at the Fifth Avenue Hospital. He is a specialist in Neurology. We would like to quote Randal about his own work, but as of yore his language is quite too pungent for print.

MARSDEN HUBBARD

Banker, care The Travelers Bank & Trust Co., Hartford, Conn.
Residence: 210 Ferry Road, Hartford, Conn.

Wife: GLADYS THAYER WOODWARD

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hub is one of our noted and fast rising bankers. He is President of the Connecticut River Banking Company, and also of the Travelers Bank and Trust Company. He is also a Director of the Travelers Insurance Company, of the Travelers Fire Insurance Company, and of the Hartford Chamber of Commerce.

Jig Little says that he plays a rotten game of golf and that worry over this, together with his slight banking responsibilities mentioned above, have not had a beneficial effect on the top of his head, because, if possible, he has fewer hairs now than he did some years ago.

Hub has been very busy of late getting married to a Montclair girl, whom he "high-hatted" right out from under the noses of the Montclair swains who observed the workings of the noted banker with considerable jealousy.

both in North Carolina. I hardly ever get to see a Princeton man, and have never been back to a Commencement since 1907. Hope I may be with you next June, but am not too optimistic. My best to all the class, and especially to you.

Discharged from Camp Dix about June 1, 1919.

EDITOR'S NOTE: According to Johnny Rouse, Courtenay is happily married and prospering most satisfactorily in the brokerage firm of Jenkins, Whedbee & Poe (Gresh Poe '02). We also learn from Ken Clark that when in France Courtenay very frequently used Ken as errand boy to go out and scout up refreshments for him, which he would enjoy while toasting his poor, tired, aching feet before a stove.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hail to the President!

Seaver is Secretary of the T. A. Gillespie Co., manufacturers and contracting engineers. At present he has charge of several large construction projects both in this neighborhood and in the Middle West. The territory to be covered keeps Seaver on the jump, but we observe that he has time now and then to play a little golf, to enjoy a slow train ride from Pittsburgh, and to pick up a new story or two in Arizona. As our Class President, Seav has been an effective leader, a suave and entertaining presiding officer and stimulating toastmaster, and a generous contributor of himself and his goods to the welfare of the Class. We are assured that he still can be induced, in the spell of a June evening under the Princeton elms, to render for us our old favorite, "Dear Old Dutch."

You suggest that I write a real letter This is election day and a holiday, as far as the office is concerned, but the boss always finds something to do.

I have been pounding away at the commission business for some fifteen years and really enjoy it. If success is measured by wealth I am a failure, but I do not believe one has to be wealthy to be happy. If it is possible to bring up a family of girls and a boy and at the same time save up some "do," would appreciate very much the formula.

The birthday greeting from you, old boy, has always carried to me more real joy than you may realize—a flood of wonderful memories. I have seen very few of the class for twenty years, but I keep fair tab on them through the university publications. Duluth is well represented at Princeton and that helps a lot.

Ed Karow has recently moved to Detroit, but when he was in Minneapolis I saw him often. Ed is doing very well and has not changed much in appearance. He has already written me about the Class Reunion next spring, insisting that I put in an appearance. Nothing will please me more if I can make it.

Outside of business my favorite diversion has been tennis, but I practically quit the game a couple of years ago and am now trying my hand, with poor success, at golf. I keep in touch with tennis directing the tournaments of the junior players and am also President of the Northwestern National Lawn Tennis Association.

Duluth is easy to reach either by rail or water and it would be a real treat to have some of the boys drop in when they take the Lake trip. I feel sure that you would find time if you came this way and maybe you will find a chance soon. Here's hoping.

WAR RECORD: Entered Navy April 9, 1917, as provisional ensign. Promoted lieutenant. (J.G.) U.S.N.R.F., Sept. 21, 1918.

June 12, 1917–Sept. 14, 1917 Executive Officer S.P. No. 1.

Sept. 19, 1917–Nov. 29, 1917 Commanding Officer S.P. No. 70.

Feb. 16, 1918–Feb. 15, 1919 Commanding Officer Sub-Chaser No. 340.

June 10, 1918–Feb. 15, 1919 Division Commander, Sub-Chasers.

Your request that I tell what I have done "these twenty years" reminds me of a little incident that happened in freshman or sophomore year.

While watching the parade of the class of '82 or '83, which was holding its Twentieth Reunion, I remarked to the student next to me: "Doubtless most of those old fellows are in a position to retire from business, if they wish."

That's how far off a Twentieth Reunion seemed then.

Now that it is here, I wonder where the time has gone. It has slipped by without leaving a foundling fortune on my doorstep nor has it made me feel very much older.

Biddy Coughlin and I are still together in business. We were together for four years at Lawrenceville and with exception of the first year after college have been together ever since.

Bid is no taller, but is a bit skinnier if such a thing can be. The only other change is the addition of a few gray hairs. His good nature has remained the same.

As I only see Bill Wessels occasionally, it is easier to detect changes in him. He is growing old gracefully; possibly because he is a bachelor. The basis of that remark is Robert Louis Stevenson's Virginibus Puerisque, and is not a reflection upon our good wives.

Bill still has plenty of that hardship loving spirit of the pioneer. When the thermometer is low with icicles forming on the bushes along the Schuylkill, look for a lone shell. It's pretty sure to be Bill out proving to himself that he is still a youngster.

This being eligible for a Twentieth Reunion is quite a shock. But I suppose the real jolt will come to most of us, before we know it, when a child first calls us "Granddaddy."

DORR EDWIN KIMBALL

Advertising, 411 East Olive St., Monrovia, Calif.

Wife: HELEN MORGAN

Children: DORR, III 10 years

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ted has had bad luck with his health. After graduating he did very well in the printing business in Chicago and we know from personal observation that he was turning out some especially fine and artistic work. Then his health broke down. Under date of December 3, 1924, he says: "Was getting along very well in Chicago in the printing business, and had married, when my health gave out, and we came to Colorado, Arizona, and later California, 'chasing the cure' (for tuberculosis). Got well enough to get into business again both in Los Angeles and in San Francisco, but the strenuous pace put me out again."

For the last four years Ted has not been so well and has been unable to be up and about much of the time. He is doing as much advertising copy and typographical designing as his health will permit. There is nothing but cheerfulness in his letter, and we all register a high hope for his speedy recovery.

April 1925: Since the above was written, we learn with the deepest sorrow that Ted Kimball died during March 1925. The exact date has not yet been learned.

This is a new line of work, as previously Fred was engaged in research work on developing commercial products from corn plants, many of his processes now being in commercial use—not by the Kentucky mountaineers.

CONSTANCE 8 years

You ask for some personal facts in my illustrious career since graduation. The "sky-pilot's" job is not illustrious, although it may be illuminating. Saving sinners like yourself is a rocky road.

Following two years teaching and three at Union Seminary, being assistant in a couple of those large "soul-factory" churches here in New York, I tackled the rural problem on Long Island, plus a side-partner who soft-soaped them while I currycombed them. They loved her and endured me. We gloried above everything else in the two hundred and fifty year old parsonage—modernized, of course. Believe me, the rural parish means more than preaching, as the electric lights brought into the village, the golf course, the community house and some bootleg enemies remain witnesses of those four and a half years.

In 1915 I tackled this present Bay Ridge job and have stuck at it ever since. Starting with two hundred members and a wee budget, we now have nearly twelve hundred members, a new quarter of a million dollar plant and a programme which you astute business men would appreciate. The modern minister is not only a preacher and a pastor but a community leader and a business manager of an amazingly varied factory. Withal, it is a corking good job and lots of fun.

I am sorry to say I haven't any future Princetonian but I am training two exceptional wives for the same. I expect to join you next June without fail. All honor to you men who do the dirty work of organizing reunions and festivities.

HAL YATES LEMON

Vice-President, Commerce Trust Co., Kansas City, Mo.

Residence: 4524 Mill Creek Blvd., Kansas City, Mo.

Wife: MABEL BARTLETT

Children: ELIZABETH ANN 11 years

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hal visits the East frequently to attend bankers' conventions. There are almost always bankers' conventions in the middle of November and June. One of the most important requisites of being a committee member to attend bankers' conventions is to have a golf bag filled with numerous clubs, which can be used with more or less skill. Hal fulfils this requisite in every particular, for we have seldom seen any golf bag which had more clubs in it. Since he frequently wears out a number of clubs in the course of a round, he has to carry several spares.

WAR RECORD: Chairman War Chest; Chairman of 4-Minute Men, Red Cross, and Liberty Bond Committee.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Borough Solicitor, County Solicitor, Republican County Chairman.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Fat is one of Pennsylvania's most active politicians. He is one of these retiring souls like Richard Croker or Charles F. Murphy, who does not bother to pick the political plums for himself, but who tells the other boys who shall be this and who shall be that. In order to do this in Mauch Chunk, Pa., one has to have a little heft too. Some of the boys around Mauch Chunk, Pa., are rougher than they are around the Ritz-Carlton. That is why Fat is still fat.

WAR RECORD: 2nd lieutenant, A.S. (dismounted).

EDITOR'S NOTE: Grinny was "host" last spring for the 1905 Golf Day at the Morris County Country Club. It was a most enjoyable occasion and Grinny was an ideal host. Everyone who was at the party had a fine time all of the time, except Scribner who had a fine time most of the time. We applied to Littell for items of interest for use in this book and received from him a collection of gems, many of which are entered herein, and which we take occasion hereby to officially disavow. If there are any shotgunnings as a result of this publication, the shotgun is to be aimed at Littell.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Some years ago we met Jig on a train at about the time he was starting his work in Hartford. At that time he was faced with an exceedingly upset condition of labor and one of his problems was to straighten out the heavy labor turn-over of his company. From what we learn, he solved that situation with great success and has gone steadily forward. Grin Littell claims that Jig acts like he had been married ten years—makes out his wife's a good friend.

Residence: 4457 Alcott St., Denver, Colo.

After graduation I worked one and a half years in the Sales Department of Regal Shoe Co.; gave up there on account of T.B. and came to Colorado. After six months in Massachusetts State Sanitarium, lived an outdoor life for ten years, on a fruit farm in western Colorado, with the result of gaining robust health. Secured position with the above company in 1917 and am still on their payroll. Competition isn't as keen here as in New York City, else I would probably have more chapters to my personal history. As it is, that completes it.

Sincerely hope that all who are privileged to attend the Reunion will thoroughly enjoy it.

Magee & Son, and in addition is a director of the Hoboken Chamber of Commerce and Vice-president of the Kiwanis Club.

Since November 1905 until now, with brief War Service as above, I have been with the Otis Elevator Company. Started in factory at Yonkers, where I stayed three years. Worked through various departments. Was Assistant Construction Manager for six years, prior to August 1918, then after April 1, 1919, managed our Buffalo, N.Y., office, then for five last years managed our Los Angeles, Calif., office, and on October 1, 1924, was appointed Vice-president and Secretary of our company, in charge of our Chicago zone.

PETER C. MANN

Lawyer, 120 Broadway, New York City

Residence: 65 Beverly Road, Upper Montclair, N.J.

Wife: GRACE E. STOWELL

Children: DORIS FRANCES 10 years

WAR RECORD: I suppose, properly speaking, I had no war record although I kept pretty busy on Liberty Loan, Red Cross and other drives and was a member of the Legal Advisory Board for the Second Draft District, Essex County, N.J.

PUBLIC OFFICES: None whatever, not even Notary Public.

My life for the past twenty years is largely summed up in the above statistics supplemented by my letters in previous records. After graduation, I attended New York Law School, graduating in June, 1907, and being admitted to practice in New York in October of that year. In September I entered the office of Alexander & Green at 120 Broadway, New York City, and have been practising law with that firm ever since. This firm is general counsel for the Equitable Life and for the past five years my work has been almost entirely connected with their matters and I have found specializing in life insurance law with all of its collateral branches most interesting. On April 29, 1911, I was married to Grace E. Stowell, of Dover, Mass. We have one child, Doris Frances Mann, born June 1, 1915. For the past year one of her greatest enthusiasms in life has been that she was going to march with the class in the "peerade" next June. The life of a lawyer practising in New York and of a Jersey commuter travelling between his home and that wicked city contains none of the thrills that will make the class record interesting. By writing no more, I will save space for the more enthralling communications.

HUGH D. MARSHALL

Investment Banking, 14 Wall St., New York City
Residence: 25 Field Point Road, Greenwich, Conn.

Wife: ADELAIDE PORTER

Children: ADELAIDE FANNIE 7 months

WAR RECORD: Assistant Federal Director, National War Savings Committee, Washington.

Lived in the West, engaged in banking business until 1917. Came to Washington at that time, indulged in various activities, and lived various places until 1921, when I moved to New York. Am now in partnership with Wood Rutter in the investment banking business at 14 Wall Street. Phil Gill is also with us and we have a very happy Princeton family—interspersed as it were with one Yale and one Harvard partner.

Was married on November 15, 1922, and have a daughter seven months old. Live in Greenwich. All in all, the last twenty years have treated me better than I deserved.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hugh has a baby. Ask him about it and he will tell you for the next hour. According to Hugh, his daughter, now seven months old, can talk enough words to do a cross word puzzle, play a slushy game of golf, ride a mean hobby-horse—and never cries.

These few remarks Hugh will make about his daughter will also start him on the prohibition question, in which he now feels greatly interested, because he has to worry every evening when his daughter is out.

Residence: Via Anita, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif.

Wife: ROMAYNE W. CROSS

Children: HENRY B. 10 years
(on road to Princeton in late thirties)
ELIZABETH H. 7 years

I have the title of Landscape Architect through my connection with Olmsted Brothers for fifteen years, and the knowledge of horticulture derived from growing plants for some seven years with Andora Nurseries of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia.

My work chiefly consists of laying out, designing, and the supervision and construction of parks and private grounds for those who think more of the beautiful than of their pocket-books.

At present (and for the past two years) I am in charge of the landscape work and the nursery of the Palos Verdes Estates, a development of some sixteen thousand acres, thirty-two hundred of which is now under intensive construction.

How Armstrong is the only one of the Glorious Class I have seen since being on the coast. He seems to be prospering along with the other "oil workers" in Southern California. Bid Coughlin had better tell you of my exploits in golf, as I played my last game with him two years ago.

By the way, has Bid's firm gone out of business? Haven't received Bandwagon for a month or two. Was interested to see how he worked out the answers to those cross-word puzzles.

EDITOR'S NOTE: For about twelve years after graduation Gib was associated with Stokes & Co. in the handling of municipal bonds. He then went with the Miner-Edgar Co.—at first in the handling of financial matters. The Miner-Edgar Co. are the owners and operators of practically all of the white clay interests in the United States, and Gib has gradually increased his duties with the Company until he is now in charge of the sales of minerals, specializing particularly in the sale of clays to the paper industries.

He lives in Metuchen, N.J., where he dabbles a bit in real estate. At least every time we see him he is just starting or finishing the building of a new house.

I have filled out the attached blank for the Twentieth Anniversary Record and believe it tells the whole story of my life's history to date.

Railroading has been my vocation ever since June 1905, and I have been associated with the Pennsylvania Railroad System continually for the past nineteen years, with headquarters in Philadelphia until March 1920 when I was transferred to Pittsburgh.

As you probably are aware, Pittsburgh is quite a Princeton center and Sewickley, where I have resided for the last four years, the home of a number of our class. When I first located there, I found Bill McCrellish, Hube Moore, Ed Trent, Frank Dunham and Hen Raymond—a fair representation for our town. At this writing Hube, Frank, and myself are the only ones left to stage a local 1905 reunion.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Charley is one of the hard workers for the class of 1905. When anything is to be done in the Pittsburgh District, Mathews is called upon to do it, and he always comes through. McCrellish says that "Mathews belongs to the '05 Tennis Club of Pittsburgh which meets almost every Sunday. Mathews, Moore and Dunham are the regular members. None of them know anything about tennis, but they seem to have a lot of fun. Outside of that, Mathews' and Moore's main amusement is singing at the class dinners."

These twenty years have been principally hard work and travel for me. The first four were spent at Boston Tech studying Mining and Metallurgy. The next two at Denver and Perth Amboy as Chemist at Smelters. Since then I have been connected with various Guggenheim enterprises as Metallurgical Engineer, which work has taken me to Europe three times, once for over two years, and to South America five times. At present I am Assistant Consulting Metallurgical Engineer for Guggenheim Brothers and a Vice-president and Director of the Anglo-Chilean Consolidated Nitrate Corporation. Consequently, insofar as the hard work and travel is concerned, the next twenty years should not be so very different from the last.

KENNETH ROSE McALPIN

Medicine, Presbyterian Hospital, 40 East 70th St., New York City

Residence: 115 East 82nd St., New York City

Wife: MARGOT W. POTTER

Children: HELEN ANNE 1 year

WAR RECORD: Lieut. (J.G.) Medical Corps, U.S.N.R.F., assigned to Naval Aviation, duty at Palm Beach and Huntington, L.I., with the "Yale Unit"; also at Brooklyn Navy Yard, and Hampton Roads Naval Base. Ordered to Killingholme, England, March 28, 1918. There until Armistice. Promoted to lieut. (S.G.) After graduation I took a P.G. with Professor McClure in embryology. In 1910 I graduated from Columbia, M.D. Was an interne at St. Luke's Hospital, New York, until 1913; then spent about a year abroad, studied a little in the University of Munich.

Put out my shingle in New York and did very little but routine work in clinics; just getting started when we went to war.

On returning I started, in a vague way, to do a little research on some rather obscure disease of the blood and glands,—chiefly with Hodgkins diseases and the leukemias, also to a less degree with the anaemias. Dr. Warfield T. Longcope (one of the world's very best, by the way) now Director of the Medical Department at Johns Hopkins, gave me some work to do and was kind enough to put my name with his at the end of a rather important article. So I have had the pleasure of refracted brightness.

Since the war my activities have been limited almost entirely to hospital work. I have done nothing of note, nor have I "discovered" anything, unless, perhaps, the difficulty of learning anything.

On the side of recreation I have been much more successful—climbed a few mountains in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland; caught fish and hunted in New Mexico, "Old" Mexico, Idaho, New Brunswick and Alberta.

A little over two years ago I got married and now wonder why I was so foolish not to have done so long ago.

Since getting married I have wandered a little less, but have become interested in a farm which will probably never cause "Chuck" Fayerweather any jealousy, but, nevertheless, affords me a lot of amusement and harmless method to spend more money than I can afford. Johnnie St. John got me into this trouble, but as he is my next door neighbor I have the pleasure of grumbling to him.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ollie is living in Trenton, where he also has his office for the general practice of medicine. Since leaving college he has been enjoying more than usual good health, gaining in weight at an average of about five pounds a year, and we now guess his weight at 225. For several years he has been a member of the State Board of Health, and helps control the sanitation of the State. His medical practice has been successful and keeps him very busy. For the past ten years, the only place he has ever walked is from where he happens to be to his automobile, which is his constant companion.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

COLORADO COLLEGE

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO

December 6, 1924

DEAR HAROLD:

In response to your request for news about myself during the interval that has elapsed since our graduation from Princeton, I would say that I have been able to carry out my intention of becoming a teacher and have found the work even more enjoyable than I had anticipated.

My first three years were spent in the Princeton University Residential Graduate College at Merwick. After securing my Ph.D. from Princeton in 1908, I taught for a year at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., substituting in the absence of one of the regular members of the Latin department there. In the fall of 1909 I returned to Princeton where I served as Instructor in Classics for seven years. In the fall of 1916 I accepted a call to a full professorship at Colorado College in Colorado Springs. I was advanced to the rank of Dean and Acting President in the fall of 1923 and am still continuing to serve the College in these varied capacities.

I am looking forward to the pleasure of meeting old friends and classmates at the Twentieth Reunion in June. Colorado Springs is a delightful place and its only drawback is its distance from Princeton.

With best wishes for yourself and the Class, I am,

Sincerely yours,

CHARLES C. MIEROW

HENRY OOTHOUT MILLIKEN

Architect, 4 East 39th St., New York City

Residence: 588 Lexington Ave., New York City

EDITOR'S NOTE: Artist, Architect, Raconteur, Traveller, and Author—Oot is one of our members who seems to cover many fields successfully. Some of his architectural designs are gems of their kind. He has recently, with Philip Lippincott Goodwin, published a volume entitled "French Provincial Architecture." The criticisms of this book, which the Editor has read, are extremely flattering. One of the principal charms of the book is the numerous beautiful illustrations.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Under date of December 19, 1924, Tub writes, "I can only state that I am still engaged in the general practice of law in this part of the world and am now the senior member of my firm of Mills & Nanry in this city; have been busy enough to keep out of mischief all the time; have had the pleasure very recently of acting with Frank Moore of our Class in the trial of a contested will in this county of more or less importance; have also run across Charlie Scribner in litigation of importance in which his firm was concerned.

"I have had the job of acting as Treasurer of our Alumni Association in this district, and it has been more or less of a pleasure, as I have had the opportunity of keeping in touch with a number of our classmates who have made Westchester County their abode. Among them is Jay Downer, who is making a great name for himself in these parts."

EDITOR'S NOTE: After leaving Princeton, Tom went to the University of Pennsylvania, where he became the intercollegiate champion in the high jump. After graduating he was in Harrisburg for a number of years on railroad and other construction work, but had a severe breakdown in his health. EDITOR'S NOTE: Pat is a member of the law firm of Steuart, Chapman & Moore. Tub Mills says he sometimes fights him or compromises with him, we forget which. After graduating from New York Law School "Pat" started to practise law in Salt Lake City, Utah, but, being unwilling to become a Mormon, he came back and established himself in New York.

WAR RECORD: None. I was one of the unfortunates (?) who had to stay at home and keep the home fires burning and keep my family of small children together. Life, so far, has been very good to me in giving me a fine wife and four sons, and to date the sheriff hasn't caught me, though at times it has been a narrow squeak.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Huby has four boys, the oldest of whom hopes to enter Princeton next fall. This shows in one sentence what Huby has been doing for twenty years. Right on the job as he always was. His principal interests outside of his family and business are horseback riding and tennis, although Charley Mathews claims that at tennis Huby can't give him even common amusement any more.

VICTOR I., JR. 8 months

WAR RECORD: U. S. Marine Corps (major).

I have filled out the blank—not much inside dope, business is not so good, I have the smartest children in the world, and am also one of the worst golf and tennis players you ever heard of. Be that all as it may, I have managed to enjoy myself these twenty odd years since last we met. I covered the globe several times with the Marines, and won several wars, including the late unpleasantness in Europe. This, however, is confidential. I got married after the last war and began raising a family. We were getting so numerous along about last July, that a comfortable parking place seemed the thing, so I resigned from the Marines. We have now plenty of acres and all I have to do is hope for rain.

I have not had much contact with old friends of the Class—a few chance meetings only, except when in New York around the club. I went to the Philippines on the same Transport with Reb Davis once. I believe he is still in the Army. I bump into Pomeroy now and then. Saw quite a lot of Eddie Little in Hayti and Detroit.

I fully expect to be on hand in June, which reminds me to get my measurements in. I am mighty anxious to be with the old outfit on that occasion and it will be a great pleasure to see you all.

Please remember me fondly to all the members of the class whom you happen to see.

FRANCES RANDOLPH 4 years

Now for the short but interesting history of my life which you say you want. You really seem to want it and I will try to make it short, at any rate. After spending one full year at Princeton, as freshman, with the Class of 1905, put in a year in Milnan Lee in hardware business, then attended Law School, George Washington University, became a member of Legal Fraternity of Phi Delta Phi, and graduated with my class in 1906. Became a member of the Bar of District of Columbia, and was associated with a law firm in Washington, D.C., for three years.

In 1910 purchased an orchard and farm here in Albemarle County, about fifteen miles from the University of Virginia and Charlottesville, and married Miss Charlotte Lee of Washington, D.C. Have three children—Charlotte Lee, six years of age, Frances Randolph, four years, and Ann Farwell two years old.

Have held no political positions—just kept right on here planting, growing, spraying, etc., apple and peach trees. Live about two miles and a half from the top of the Blue Ridge.

Enclosed is your slip filled out with the statistics regarding my family and myself.

Beyond the statistics it is very difficult to write anything that would be of interest to the men, inasmuch as my activities have been sort of routine humdrum affairs, with no excitement that comes to a good many of the men who get about and have many interesting experiences. I am surprised, however, that the time between our 1905 graduation day and today seems to me a very short period and all of the important things that happened at that time are very vivid to me, and it seems only a short way in the past.

It will be a great joy to sit down with our old classmates for a period of several days and reminisce about the past and tell of our ambitions for the future, but will the dear classmates take time from the hectic entertainment that I understand is being prepared to consider these sober, serious reflections.

MARY A. 1 month

WAR RECORD: Began work with the U. S. S. B. E. F. C. in November 1917, assisting in handling their marine insurance, and since March 1919 have been in charge of the department which handled their self-insurance covering their fleet.

PUBLIC OFFICES: None, unless you consider the above a public office.

If the record of 1905 isn't a best seller, blame the member of the reunion committee who persuaded me to write this.

I hardly know what is of interest in my quiet career, but here are some of the high spots. History hardly began till we were well started in the war, for prior to that time I lived very comfortably at home and had more or less success in earning my living. I tried being a very small cog in a banker's office, but gave that up to be a smaller one in the general freight office of a railroad company, but couldn't stand that for long, so took a few months off to visit a friend and see a little of the world in Porto Rico.

When I returned I took a position in the adjusting department of a large Marine Insurance brokerage house and have stuck to that line ever since, but by no means to the same concern. I made at least three changes in eight years, finally coming to Washington in the fall of 1917 to do my bit with the U. S. Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corp.

When I struck Washington my wanderings as to business ceased, but they certainly began and continued for some time as to lodgings, for it was almost impossible to find a satisfactory place to live—much less to eat. It was an exciting winter in many ways—you never knew whether you were going to freeze or starve to death. There were very few casualties, except when the flu struck, and just about the time that the government's big war machine got into working order the thing was over.

My work of handling the machine insurance reserve of the Fleet Corp., through which all of the 1500 or so steamers were insured, continued, and I have stayed with it. Building up a Merchant Marine is lots harder than running a big fleet under war conditions, but big strides have been made and further improvement will be made with the 300 steamers which are now in operation. The United States is a real factor in the shipping game, even if the newspapers throughout the country do all that they can to kill it.

On December 1, 1920, I married Miss Mary E. Anderson and we have two little tots—Bryan K., Jr., born April 13, 1922, and Mary A., born February 12, 1925.

WAR RECORD: Wholly with the United States Army Ambulance Service with the French Army from Aug. 1917 until April 1919. Graduated with grade of 1st lieut.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Murray, being one of our fairly recent benedicts, has become a resident of the un-roaring Forties (meaning the Park Avenue section) in New York. But he testifies that when his youngster is a little more grown up he will have to migrate to Central—or at least Grammercy—Park, so that the little dear will have room to graze. Murray is one of the regulars at the Wednesday Class Luncheons, despite the distance from Wall Street, and is ever ready to do his bit for the class.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Oom's business requires him to travel considerably throughout his West Virginia territory; but why he should have to go to Pittsburgh so much, we don't know. He attends all sporting events. Years ago we attended a prize fight in that metropolis and of course the front row was occupied by Oom and Casey Paull. Charley Mathews says Oom is a past President of the Wheeling Country Club, golf being his principal outdoor amusement. Oom is President of the Wheeling Rotary Club and on the Board of Directors of the Fort Henry Club of Wheeling.

I often think of you and wonder how you are getting along. I was in the Ford Automobile business in Memphis, Tenn., up until a few years ago, when I sold out as I had to be away so much.

I live with my mother and sister. Never see anyone from Princeton out here though I should very much like to. If any oughy-fivers should ever pass through here I hope to have the pleasure of seeing them.

El Paso is a thriving community, with the finest climate in the world. This is a broad statement, but true nevertheless. We have had continuous sunshine and crisp, clear days for months. You know Juarez, Mexico, is ten minutes ride over the river. It is absolutely wide open, with bars (the old foot rest is there too), gambling, bull fights, and everything. Stop over for a few days if you ever go West.

Was with the Ingersoll-Rand Co. of New York from October, 1905, to June, 1907, and with the Middlesex Water Co. of Metuchen, N.J., from June, 1907, to September, 1908. Since this time have been at Pomfret School and am now in charge of the History Department. Was married at Plainfield, N.J., June 29, 1918. Nothing further to report, since this is a quiet section of country and a schoolmaster's life is anything but exciting.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We well remember Horse when he was with the Middlesex Water Company. He was a hard rider (of the company motorcycle), a hard drinker (of the company's water), and a marvellous fusser of the Plainfield debutantes. Ah me! those were the good old days. Since then Horse has become very dignified and sedate and Jig Little goes so far as to say: "Dave Pond is still instructing the rising generation at Pomfret, and takes his responsibilities so seriously that there is some question in his mind as to his ability to attend the Reunion in June, although he hopes to be able to do so."

1922- With Sanderson & Porter, Engineers.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Frank still plays good golf, they say, but it is not apparent at the 1905 Golf Days. Perhaps his preference nowadays for mixed foursomes, in which he may be seen almost any Sunday afternoon at the Plainfield Country Club, has affected the perfect timing that once added to the fame of the Class of 1905.

CHARLES R. RICHARDS

EDITOR'S NOTE: Who in the class would know him as Charles Redner Richards? But probably the clients of Hubert M. Schott & Co. know him as just that, unless they are heavy enough buyers to call him "Dick."

EDGAR S. RICHARDSON

Residence: 841 North Fifth St., Reading, Pa.

Wife: JULIET U. SHEARER
Children: MARY ELIZABETH 6 years

WAR RECORD: Legal Advisory Board; Four-minute speaker; chairman of various local war drives.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dick taught school for a year after graduation and was New York representative of a dairy company for another year. From 1907-1910 he studied law at U. of P. and was admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar in 1910, after which he took a trip to Europe. From 1911 to 1924 Dick practised law in Reading, and we learn from Charley Henry that he has one of the outstanding practices of his county, being Solicitor and Consulting Attorney for a number of banks and large corporations. He has been active in numerous public movements and organizations and in the State Bar Association. In June 1920 he was a delegate to the Republican National Convention; and in 1924 was a delegate to the American Bar Association Meeting in London.

On November 3, 1924, he was appointed by the Governor to be a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Berks County, Pa.—a signal honor. Charley Henry claims that he will have to sit on five law books to see over the judge's desk.

My 1905 contacts have been pretty well kept up these past twenty years. My wife is a sister of Johnny Rouse. I buy all my insurance now-a-days from Harold Short. In my business we buy quite a bit of lithograph work from Dutch Kessler and Biddy Coughlin. In the summer I play golf pretty regularly with Hugh Marshall, and take many Sunday trips with Ernest Wills on his boat, The Vesta. I am a fairly regular attendant at our class luncheons, which are held every Wednesday at the Princeton Club. Once in a while I lend Jim Semple

$5.00 which I make by writing advertising copy for John Nickerson. Once a year I watch Seaver Jones ride to hounds and drink cocktails while still in the saddle. When I want news I drop in on Grin Littell and hear the latest gossip. I could continue at greater length, but I guess this will give sufficient idea of the life I lead.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Charley has a sugar plantation in the Dominican Republic, where he has to spend a considerable part of his time, getting up to the States only on occasions when his presence is required, such as Yale Games, Reunions, etc.

Charley knows all about voodooes and native dances, customs, and the like, and if he can be persuaded to tell what he knows, can give his hearers an interesting half hour.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tidy is reported to have developed an indisposition just before the Yale Game last year, which kept him from going to Princeton, thus providing a couple of extra tickets for Scud Nickerson. However, by the time the Class Dinner was held in January last, Tidy had recovered sufficiently to bring up quite a number of points in rebuttal to Dr. Lansing Collins' speech.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gowen is a member of the law firm of Roper & Caldwell, and a successful handler of difficult litigation. He retains his capacity for class work and does a considerable part of it in the Philadelphia district. He still has his clear and concise way of putting things and is, therefore, an addition to any party, especially when he and Coley Brown can be induced to shoot at each other.

For myself, there is not much to say, except that I have been most happily married these past thirteen years and over, and my son Jack is entered at St. Paul's for 1928, and ought to enter Princeton in the Fall of 1930. He is now at the Gilman School here, which, by the way, is sending mighty good men to Princeton these days, as you have no doubt noted in checking up some of our star football players recently, and there is just a chance we may cancel his reservation at St. Paul's, and let him continue through at Gilman.

My daughter, Elizabeth Anne, age 9, is a live wire and apparently should have been a boy.

Why speak of golf? I play regularly at the Elkridge Hunt Club here, but I only play—that's all. With due modesty, and if you really want information, in addition to being President of this Company, I am a Director of the Maryland Trust Company, and the Western National Bank, both of this city, and last fall was elected a Director of the Baltimore Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, to serve for a period of three years from January 1, 1925.

Bill Richardson and I have taken a house in Princeton for a week for Commencement, and will bring our wives and two children each, and expect to have the time of our lives. I think Mrs. Rouse and the children are just as excited and enthusiastic about it as I am.

Bill Richardson, as you may remember, married my sister, Evelyn. Bill and I roomed together for three years at Princeton, so I think I fixed up things pretty well, don't you?

Spent a most interesting and profitable year, 1909-10, studying chemistry at Heidelberg, Germany, and at Zurich, Switzerland. The teaching of chemistry at Princeton, Lawrenceville, University of Oklahoma, and of chemical engineering at Michigan University claimed the major portion of my attention until I entered the war service in 1917. Since the war I have devoted my time exclusively to the manufacture of pulp and paper, a subject to which I devoted some time at the University of Michigan. My time is now entirely engaged in the direction of research into problems related to this industry.

WAR RECORD: Commissioned and entered active service 1st lieut. M.C., August 20, 1917. Discharged, major October 6, 1919. For about a year on meningitis and pneumonia work. Then as Chief of laboratory service at Camp Merritt, N.J. Now lieut. col. in M.O.R.C.

Everything going fine until the end of the war knocked my feet out from under me. Since then I have been slowly catching up and am just beginning to see better things ahead. Have had no time for diversions, except the satisfaction of working in a garden and around the "farmlet." Health and spirits never better. Just as bald as twenty years ago.

EDWARD S. SANFORD

Lawyer, 810 Broad St., Newark, N.J.
Residence: Ridgewood Road, South Orange, N.J.

WAR RECORD: Entered 1st R.O.T.C., May 1917. Discharged from Army June 1919, as 1st lieut., 315 F.A. Served in two major engagements.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ned is a member of the firm of Harrison ('99) and Roche ('03), Attorneys at Law, in Newark, N.J. His recent work has covered some particularly important litigation. Ned was "host" at the 1905 Golf Day last fall and a very hospitable and pleasing host he was. For his afternoon round he had inflicted upon him as a golf companion one of New Jersey's worst golfers and suffered it without a murmur.

WILLIAM HENRY SAYEN, JR.

President of the Mercer Rubber Company, Hamilton Square, N.J.
Residence: Princeton, N.J.

WIFE: EDITH MAY CONYERS

Children: JAMES CONYERS 8 years

WILLIAM HENRY, III

WAR RECORD: National War Work Council of Y.M.C.A. Overseas May 1918-Jan. 1919. Croix de Guerre and citation by Gen. Petain. French Commemorative World War Medal—red ribbon rights.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Borough Council six years. President of Princeton Chamber of Commerce 1924.

Have worked with same company for twenty years. Married in 1910 and lived in Princeton ever since, as factory is only ten miles hence.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Henry has devoted considerable time to politics in Princeton. The paving of Nassau Street and clearing it of overhead wires was largely due to his energy. For the past year he has been interested in building in Princeton and will sell you a house and lot on the least provocation. He is also a movie magnate, a part owner of the picture house at Princeton where tired students get diversion after a hard preceptorial day.

PUBLIC OFFICES: School Board, Town Council, etc., in Boonton, N.J., a decade ago; "also ran" for the New Jersey Assembly in 1914.

I am still working hard to make the high cost of living, without any notable achievement to my credit, not even a fair game of golf; but my law practice is varied and interesting, there have been some pleasant holidays, and the future still promises much; so it is right to say that these twenty years have brought me a fair measure of success.

HAROLD H. SHORT

Insurance Broker, 149 Broadway, New York City
Residence: 25 Fifth Ave., New York City

Wife: LESLEY LA BEAUME

WAR RECORD: Y.M.C.A., April 1918–June 1919. Was in France all that time, attached as Field Secretary to 310th Inf., 78th Div.

I have been in the insurance business since 1912. Have always been a slow mover and did not start to really live until August 1923, when I found a “Better Half” who could teach me what life really meant.

EDITOR’S NOTE: Shorty has continued right through the years to do a large share of all the class work and do it well. We feel sure he has the sincere thanks of every member of his class.

He is a successful insurance broker, having written some very large life policies recently. Indeed, he will write your insurance before you can say “scat” if you don’t watch him.

He’s softening up a little, Shorty is, we fear. Only a few years ago he broke his leg—playing tennis! He plays golf too, but whatever he breaks at that, it will not be a record.

And when you come to the Big Twentieth, it will be Shorty who has done a tremendous amount of work to make it a success—the old wheelhorse.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tod is Secretary of the Dodge & Olcott Co., manufacturers of flavoring extracts, and other chemical products. He has a factory out in Bayonne which is redolent with the odors of myrrh and saffras and all the spices of Araby—also some that would grace a glue factory.

His daughter is studying at the Cleveland School of Art. Jim appears frequently at the Pittsburgh Princeton festivities, and has promised Don Hamilton, Harold Short, and Charley Mathews that he will be on hand, without fail, at the Twentieth Reunion. After all those promises he had better make good.

T. KENNEDY STEVENSON

Assistant Comptroller of the Western Electric Co.

195 Broadway, New York City

Residence: 418 Monterey Ave., Pelham Manor, N.Y.

Wife: CANDACE THURBER

Children: CAROLINE STUART 10 years

I really don't know anything of interest to say about myself which would be of interest to anybody except the data that I reported on the blank. Mine has not been an eventful life, but rather one where my nose has been kept to the grind-stone of work continuously.

As regards Walker, I have seen very little of him in recent years. I know that he has progressed rapidly in the Semet-Solvay Company, that he now holds down a very important job, and that he has a number of children, but that is about all I can tell you.

I believe there is an old saying that happy is the country which has no history, and a repetition of that statement is about all this letter amounts to.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tookie was, for a number of years, engaged in selling wire products of different kinds, during which time he travelled to South America and other foreign parts. However, everyone knew that sooner or later Tookie would have to get into a job where he could unload some of those millions of figures that used to pop out at the C.E. profs when they presumed to question him. Now he has it. He brings out the millions of the Western Electric Company in figures, juggles them around all day long, and then puts them away for the night. The result is the working out of the financial policy of a great institution.

Whether from such mental exertions, or from a mere omission to use herpicide, Tookie's tonsorial condition is as hopeless as Osborn's, Hubbard's and Pardoe's.

WALKER W. STEVENSON

EDITOR'S NOTE: Appointed a "Kentucky Colonel" in 1918! Must have been one of the last appointments to that ancient and honorable order, legally proscribed by Act of Congress the very next year.

JOHN A. STEWART, 3RD

Became a Special Executive in the Russian Bureau of the War Trade Board, Washington, D.C. Volunteered for Field Artillery Officers' Training School, was accepted and ordered to report at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., October 31, 1918, but just before that date was ordered to remain with War Trade Board, which I did until January 4, 1919.

Graduated from Packard Business College in June 1906. Was a clerk in the banking house of Brown Brothers & Co., 59 Wall St., New York City, until the fall of 1909, when I went into the time money business with Charles H. Mills.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Clerk of the District Court of the City of Trenton.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Scrub is Clerk of the City of Trenton District Court, where he has been for many years. As has always been his custom, it is never too much trouble for him to do something for somebody else. He has always been a Republican and taken an active part in politics. Since leaving college has gained considerably in weight, and is just as jovial as ever.

JOHN HALE STUTESMAN

Major of Infantry, United States Army
The Adjutant General, U.S.A., Washington, D.C.
(at present stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.)
Residence: 68 East 2nd St., Peru, Ind.

Wife: VIRGINIA GERHARDT

Children: JOHN HALE, JR. 4 years

WAR RECORD: Of no particular interest. Finished as lieut. col., S.C. The two men in the class who deserve the most credit for their services during the war are Young and Blair. They, particularly the former, made greater personal sacrifices than anyone I know.

Have been an officer in the Regular Army since September 25, 1908, serving with the Infantry and Signal Corps at Ft. Harrison, Ind.; San Antonio, Texas; Panama Canal Zone; Texas City, Texas; El Paso, Texas; Camp Alfred Vail, N.J.; France with the A.E.F.; Camp Custis, Mich.; San Francisco, Calif.; Camp Pike, Ark.; Ft. Benning, Ga.; and Ft. Leavenworth, Kans. Have been considerable of a school boy again since 1905. Have been graduated after a ten months' course at each place from the Army Signal School, Ft. Leavenworth, Kans. (1916); the Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Ga. (1921); the Command and General Staff class of 1923 at the General Service Schools, Ft. Leavenworth, Kans.; have spent the years 1921-1922 and 1924-1925 to date as an instructor at the Infantry School, Ft. Benning, where I now am; have been placed on the General Staff eligible list; and hope to go to the War College at Washington, D.C., this August for the school year 1925-1926. If I get there thank God I'll be through with schools—until I can get a detail at the Field Artillery School. In the Army these days, if you aren't going to schools you are running them. Talk about professional post-graduate work! The sub-title of my picture should be "Not educated yet" or "Still going to school."

Am looking forward to seeing you in June. One can never be certain of his plans in the service, but everything looks very favorable now. Hope for the best, even if "All signs fail in dry weather." Even Mr. Volstead can't spoil the pleasure of "reunioning." Best of luck to you, Harold, as always. Remember me to any of the fellows you happen to see.

I have been an active parish minister, an editor (I still am contributing editor of three periodicals) and an advocate of unpopular causes. Was even fool enough to run for Governor of New York on the Socialist ticket when Al Smith was running. Since I didn't expect to be elected I wasn't disappointed. My path has led me away from the road travelled by many old friends. That I regret, but nothing else.

CHARLES TROWBRIDGE TITTMANN

WAR RECORD: 1st lieut., A.S.C.; 1st lieut., capt., and major, J.A.G.D.; Service at Camps Upton and A.A. Humphreys, and at War Department. Member of celebrated Special Clemency Board which reduced, to regular and sensible levels, punishments of excessive and divergent degrees for same offenses. No unusual or distinguished service.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Assistant Solicitor, Department of State.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Charley has lived in Washington since 1910. After leaving Princeton he studied law at Harvard. Since 1910 he has lived in Washington and in 1912 married Jean Audenried Crosby, daughter of Admiral Crosby. When he was younger he rowed on the Analostan boat crew, in several regattas, but finds this a little too strenuous at present. After two years' war service he was made Assistant Solicitor of the State Department in 1920, and in 1921 formed the law firm of Strickland & Tittmann, which engages principally in practice before the United States Court of Claims, and at present has several cases before the German-American Mixed Claims Commission, and the United States-Mexico Claims Commission.

With all his other work, Charley has been able to make a genuine profession of his singing. He fills the best church solo position in Washington and has sung in a large number of concerts throughout the country, at most of the big music festivals, and has been soloist with four of America's leading orchestras. In 1923 the Victor Company released two of his records.

Charley still has the good old voice there for the class at reunion time, as was very amply evidenced by the way he tore into Ken Clark's "House by the Side of the Road" at the mid-winter dinner.

For several years have been actively interested as a Trustee in Hospital Expansion work. Have also found it quite necessary and desirable to be a Director of a local bank, in order to keep my credit good and give the outward indications of being prosperous.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Grin Littell claims that Tobe is a perfect executive, in that he needs hardly ever to be in his office, especially when Grin wants to find him. He says Tobe's Sunday paper and the Newark Sunday Call are the only two of their kind in the world. We do not know just what he means by this, and, therefore, point out to Tobe that any shooting is for Grinny's account.

After the war was with the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Agriculture, in the distribution of surplus war materials to states for highway construction, for about a year and a half. For next two and one-half years in auto accessories business as factory representative.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ned leads the quiet life of one of the few remaining bachelors in the class. He frequents the Princeton Club of New York, and attends reunions, not only of Princeton, but of the American Field Service, for which he was one of the star ambulance drivers; at one class dinner Ned delivered an impassioned harangue on how to make Germany pay, the burden of his story being "Force and Yet More Force." Until recently Ned was in engineering work for himself. At present he is resting up waiting to take on something big like the Staten Island Tunnel.

The sunshine and shadows of these twenty years past have followed me as a wandering mining engineer from Canada to South America, doing everything from running a transit and bossing "peones" to lobbying bills through a Spanish-American congress. Very briefly, in 1906 I began work in St. Lawrence County, N.Y.; in 1907 I went to Mexico working from Coahuila and Chihuahua in the north to Oaxaco in the south. In 1911 the Madero revolution and ill health drove me back to New York, where I remained till 1916 when Spanish America again called me—this time to a remote mining district almost hidden in the Andes of southern Ecuador. Here you may still find me, playing material guide and spiritual confessor to a foreign colony of some seventy-five and native settlement of several thousand inhabitants. Incidentally we operate a very interesting little gold mine, which like most mines always promises to be very profitable.

The years have been kind to me. My hair is gray and falling, but I can still put in twelve continuous hours in the saddle without too many aches—to say nothing of passing a first-class insurance examination. I have been unusually blessed in a lovely wife who tempers my conceit and with three fascinating children makes every day of a busy life well worth living.

Residence: 15 Radnor Place, Hyde Park, London, England

ELIZABETH AYRES 8 years

LAWRENCE L., JR. 6 years

PUBLIC OFFICES: Honorable Secretary, American Club, London; Honorable Secretary, American Relief Association, London; Chairman, Advisory Council, American University Union, London.

Have been in London since 1912. For ten years as a partner of Bernhard Scholle & Co., New York, members of New York Stock Exchange. On the dissolution of that firm, December 1922, formed London firm under same name, which does a general banking and security business in London, specializing in American securities. Am looking forward to our Twentieth and expect to be there.

I have just had your notice for the Twentieth Anniversary Record, and I enclose the form duly filled up to the best of my ability.

It is nearly thirteen years now since I first came to London, with the idea of staying a few years only, and I am still here and it does not look as if I am going to get back permanently for some time.

I am planning to come over this spring, however, for the Reunion, and I can assure you I am looking forward to the trip.

There is not much I can give you as to information, except that I have been plodding along in the banking business here with a certain amount of success.

Now and again I see some Princetonians on this side, but usually they are so busy sight-seeing that the first information I get of the majority of them is when I read about their trip in the Alumni Weekly after their return.

My last visitor was the Class Secretary who spent a night with me last summer.

CURTIS P. UPTON

Land Appraiser and Real Estate
686 Mills Bldg., San Francisco, Calif.

Residence: 2032 Clinton Ave., Alameda, Calif.

Wife: MAUDE MAYNARD

EDITOR'S NOTE: Curt had to go to California. The climate around here interfered with trombone playing during the entire year, and since Curt's membership in the Upper Pyne band had made it absolutely necessary for him to be able to play a trombone all year, he had to go to California. Of course, being in California, he is naturally in the real estate business. When you think it over, the Upper Pyne band was the forerunner of present day jazz music.

J. DAYTON VOORHEES

Assistant Professor, Princeton University, 151 Library Place, Princeton, N.J.

Wife: ELSA DENISON
Children: ELSA 9 years
DAYTON 7 years
KATRINA 5 years

WAR RECORD: 1st lieutenant, S.C., Aviation Section, Oct. 29, 1917. Capt., A.S., July 23, 1918. Honorable discharge Jan. 20, 1919.

After graduation and a year in a law office, I attended the University of Pennsylvania Law School for two years and was admitted to the New Jersey bar in 1908. Practised law, with certain intermissions, till 1917; took a year off to go around the world 1911-1912; got degree of M.A. from University of Pennsylvania 1911 and another M.A. from Princeton 1914; married November 7, 1914, joined the Princeton Faculty in 1919, and am still here.

For God's sake change my name on the class records from "James D.," which nobody ever called me in my life, to "J. Dayton" or simply "Dayton" (I stopped using even the J. long ago) and I am not known by any other name, except by jovial classmates who translated the Dayt into Fig.

BEILA BRINKERHOFF

WAR RECORD: Officers' Training Camp, Plattsburg, N.Y., April-Aug. 1917; 2nd lieutenant, 303rd Inf., Camp Devens, Mass., Aug. 1917-July 1918. To France July 1918, 2nd Div., 23rd Inf. Divisional Citation: Croix de Guerre with silver star. Discharged May 1919 at Camp Dix, N.J.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ken Clark saw Dody and son before the Harvard game and says that right now the wise saying that "Papa's pants will soon fit Phillip" no longer applies, because Dody's son is bigger than his Pop.

SIMON FRANKLIN WADE

Doctor, 555 Newark Ave., Elizabeth, N.J.

Wife: ELSIE REID MAWHA

Children: ROBERT STEVENSON 10 years

WAR RECORD: Examining, and care of work of other men doing examining, and practice of the men who were in the army.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Assistant attending in medicine at the Elizabeth General Hospital.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Si graduated in medicine from Columbia University and did further work as an interne at Bellevue Hospital, after which he came to Elizabeth to practise medicine and has been steadily at it since. He has one of the most desirable practices in the city and has recently held the position of Chief of Staff of the Elizabeth General Hospital.

About six or seven years ago he moved into a new home and office and there holds forth. He belongs to a golf club, but thinks he is too busy to play more than about twice a year—a mistake which he will regret when he reaches the age of ninety.

A coincidence—about a month after the last paragraph was written, Si had a breakdown and was laid up for about two months. Now in April 1925 he is well again and thinks he will not be too busy to play a little golf.

CHESTER H. WALCOTT

Architect, 108 South LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill.

Residence: Winnetka, Ill.

Wife: JULIE CUMMINS

Children: HELEN 11 years
JULIE C. 7 years

WAR RECORD: Industrial Housing.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Director American Institute of Architects (Chicago Chapter).

EDITOR'S NOTE: Chet is still practising architecture and living in Winnetka, a Chicago suburb, where he is responsible for a good share of the neo-colonial residences. He has recently left his old firm of Clark & Walcott and is practising alone. He is working on his chef d'oeuvre, a very handsome church in the perpendicular gothic style for a "gold coast" Episcopal parish.

EDGAR Z. WALLOWER

Mine Operator, Zinc and Lead Mining, 118 East 4th St., Joplin, Mo.

Residence: The Elms, Joplin, Mo.

Wife: HELEN REMINGTON CALDER

Children: RICHARD 5 years
EILEEN 3 years

WAR RECORD: Chairman First Red Cross Drive, Oklahoma City.

PUBLIC OFFICES: Member Library Board, Joplin.

EDITOR'S NOTE: After graduation Ezy went to Cornell for Electrical Engineering, until 1907. Then he took the General Electric Company special course with Dugan Payne. He then became Superintendent of Operation and Construction of the Harrisburg (Pa.) Light, Heat & Power Co. In 1914 he was transferred to Lockport, N.Y., as General Manager of the Lockport Light, Heat & Power Co., where he won a notable fight for rate increases.

In 1916 he went to Oklahoma to oversee numerous oil, gas, and other interests; but the next year started the Golden Rod Mining & Smelting Corporation, and soon moved to Joplin, Mo., to look after these interests. Last year Ezy's company produced 38,000 tons of zinc and 4,000 tons of lead concentrates, being the fifth largest producers in that field. His company shows healthy signs of large development.

He claims that nothing but a tornado or cataclysm will keep him away from the Big Twentieth and then makes a rash statement which will take a bit of proving. He says he can trim most of these dub golf players in the New York district.

RUDOLPH L. WALTON

Paper Business, 132 Franklin St., New York City

Residence: West Orange, N.J.

WAR RECORD: Lieutenant in Air Service.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Rudy is still on the job when anything is needed to be done for the class. As of yore he says very little but does a lot of work. He and Bobbie Leake are frequently reported in Europe together.

CLARENCE WARD

Teaching, Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio

Wife: MISS ESHBAUGH

Children: Clarence has some children, but we do not know their names, as he has answered no inquiries.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Clarence was Professor of Art and Mediaeval Architecture at Rutgers College for a number of years, and later did some special work at Princeton. Six or seven years ago he went to Oberlin College, where he is Professor of History of Art and Director of the Art Museum. The Princeton University Press has recently published his "Mediaeval Church Vaulting."

The last authentic record we have of him comes from Hoppy Brown, who says he has been gadding about Europe for many months, with a large bevy of young ladies, who, we assume, are co-eds at his college, and to whom he is presenting the wonders of the Old World.

HENRY W. WESSELS, JR.

Residence: 2022 Spruce St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Wife: SELMA L. ROSSMASSLER

EDITOR'S NOTE: Henry was married on February 7, 1925 to Miss Selma L. Rossmassler of Philadelphia. He did considerable boasting, through the years, to Dutch Kessler and others that he was always to be a bachelor.

DAVENPORT WEST

Physician, 19 East 65th St., New York City

Residence: 145 East 74th St., New York City

Wife: DOROTHY PHELPS

Children: DAVENPORT, JR. 6 years

 JOHN PHELPS 4 years

WAR RECORD: Captain, Medical Corps. Base Hospital, Camp Wadsworth, Aug. 8, 1918—May 20, 1919.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dave is nicking out more kale than the West who makes the tooth brush, invented the disinfectant, or travelled with Horace Greely. He has one slogan for his classmates, to whom he gives a shotgun pill or an oil gargle—"Five dollars or nothing." He has already added to his clientèle most of the people with more than two nickles, around New York, and it is rumored that he has to wear a high hat some of the time because of these conditions. You see, Dave's Chesterfieldian manner makes a hit with the mamas and he goes very big when little Oswald has a tummy ache. He is attending physician at the Roosevelt Hospital, and also at St. Mary's, and is a member of the American Medical Association, Academy of Medicine.

JOHN McCAHAN WHITE

Minister, 921 Lafayette Ave., Moores, Pa.

 WILLIAM CHARLES 5 years

PUBLIC OFFICES: Chairman of Committee on Public Safety, Galeton, Pa.

JOSEPH S. WHITEHEAD

Dealer in Coal and Masons' Supplies, Williamsburg, Pa.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Jim Furst says he has been camping with Joe a couple of times, and that Joe is still single, although he came mighty close to being caught more than once. Jim says he has told him two or three times to shut his eyes and jump in, but Joe hasn't got enough sense to take good advice.

ERNEST C. WILLS

Builder, 286 Fifth Ave., New York City

Residence: Greenwich, Conn.

Wife: LESLEY ACKERMAN

EDITOR'S NOTE: Rec is Vice-commodore of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club, of Greenwich, Conn. He and Rog Young are candidates for the champion yachtsman of the Class of 1905. Rec's boat, The Vesta, may be seen at all the big regattas and his week-end parties are said to be worth a long trip to attend. Incidentally, Rec is a building contractor in New York City, a dog fancier of note, and a regular attendant at the Danbury Fair.

Residence: Englewood, N.J.

RALPH B. WILSON

Treasurer and General Manager, 462 Commercial St., Portland, Me.

Residence: 13 Gray St., Portland Me.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ralph is in the lumber business in Portland and has a large and increasing business. He was active in war camp community service after the war, in Portland, Me. In the summer he and his sisters live at Prout's Neck. In the winter he hibernates at Portland and plays the piano, but occasionally gets to New York to attend the opera.

R. MARSHALL WILSON

Investments, Milton, Pa.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Marsh is a Director in numerous banks, corporations, societies, associations and what not, and with his brother Willie '07, manages to keep a strangle hold on a fair chunk of their part of Pennsylvania. Indeed, when Marsh takes his periodical trips to New York, both Milton and Broadway go on vacation. It has been rumored that Marshall's attentions have lately been turned towards charities, and that he contemplates the endowment of a hospital in Philadelphia—always a convenient stopping place between Milton and Princeton. At any rate we will expect him in June, full, as always, of his usual good spirits.

JOHN LOUIS WINNEMORE

Minister, Linden, Lycoming County, Pa.

WAR RECORD: Presbyterian Pastor in New York State.

I am returning this questionnaire. Always glad to hear from any of '05.

I was ordained in Philadelphia on November 12, 1908, to the Presbyterian ministry in the Presbyterian Church in U.S.A. I have remained a minister all these years, although one season I accepted a position as principal of a school and teaching in New York State.

I am now pastor of a charge in the Northumberland Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

I hope to be able to get back to Princeton for Commencement in 1925.

130 Aycrigg Ave., Passaic, N.J.

From May 1917 to February 1920 was Head Instructor of Navigation in the Navigation and Marine Engineering School of 25 South St., New York City. During this period we put through over 3,000 men for the Navy and the Shipping Board, in fact we received a letter from Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt thanking us for our work and assuring us that we had done something that they couldn't do as they were not equipped to do it at that time. I afterwards went to sea until I obtained my Master's certificate.

Residence: Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Wife: LILLIAN LOUISE WHALEY

Children: VIRGINIA IRVING 6 years

I am filling out and enclosing the circular which you sent to me about the Twentieth Anniversary Record.

There isn't much I care to say about the last twenty years, except that which I have filled in concerning my marriage, which you are aware of, and having done my part gathering a family about us. George, I hope, will be able to make the grade so he can enter Princeton somewhere around 1942.

I regret to advise you that I haven't seen very many of my classmates in the last twenty years, but I do hope that they will notify me any time they are around Boston.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Irv is still a good tennis player, having won again last year the doubles championship of the Boston district, which gets him in the class of long lasters in the championship division.

He has found time, through the years, to do a considerable amount of work for the Class and for the University. He still pursues De Wolf Hopper as the holder of the standing broad record for "Casey at the Bat." His constituents demand it and will again demand it at the Twentieth.
